Body Stolen From Vault In Cemetery

Casket Smashed; Remains Of Sausalitan Missing

The remains of a pioneer Sausalito resident have vanished from a small marble vault in Fernwood Cemetery in Tennessee Valley, Coroner Frank J. Keaton disclosed today.

The bones of M. P. Barreios, who died in 1904 at the age of 56, are missing. His wooden casket was smashed at one end and the marble slab of its wall crypt wrenched away, reported Coroner Keaton and Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos.

The small above-the-ground vault belongs to three longtime Sausalito families of Portuguese descent: The Flores family, Barreios family and Ignacio family.

Mrs. Lucy Flores of 306 Turney street, Sausalito, discovered the empty casket late yesterday.

Directly opposite the crypt of the missing skeleton, another marble crypt was smashed and a casket opened.

This one contained the bones

DADDY'S THE CHIEF

Jr., shown here with him as he received congratulations at his home at 363 Santa Margarita drive on election that will make him chief of San Rafael Police Department next week. Chiesa Upsets Kelly For San Rafael Police Chief

Incumbents Returned In All Other Races

Lt. Charles J. Chiesa, who had been working for a captaincy for years, went all the way yesterday and won himself the San Rafael police chief's job with a 3,090 to 2,209 vote over Chief Frank Kelly.

Chiesa was the only challenger to oust an incumbent in San Rafael's city election. City Atty. Albert E. Bagshaw warded off the challenge by Thomas P. Boyd to win another four years in office, with 2,957 votes to 2,234. So did Councilmen Fred Jensen and Charles W. Aby, who beat Michael McLean.

For board of education, Caesar Paul Bettini, Roderick P. Martinelli and Rex T. Silvernale are back in office. Closest challenger, radio announcer Bill Thompson, came within 171 votes of Silvernale, but not close enough for the 67 absentee ballots to change the result. C. Roy Calder came in fifth.

Mayor John F. McInnis, City Clerk William L. Morgan and Tax Collector A. J. (Angie) Soldavini were swept into office without opposition. Miss Soldavini, in her first election for public office, polled the highest of any candidate. She drew 4,541 votes to McInnis' 4,442 and Morgan's 4,438.

On Friday night, the city council will meet to canvass ballots. New officers will be sworn into office Monday.

LIGHT TURNOUT

In San Rafael proper, 5,330 persons turned out to vote in 24 precincts. Outside the city limits, only 780 voted for board of education members.

Police Chief Kelly's defeat recalls the campaign of 16 years ago when he (then county undersheriff) ousted incumbent Chief Barney Ruschetti.

Kelly this morning congratulated the new chief and thanked his supporters who helped him during the campaign.

With his Irish humor still instact, Chief Kelly quipped: "I'm going to be out of a job Monday. Have gun, will travel."

He said he has nothing in mind for the future. "If somebody offers me a job, I'll probably take it."

VICTORY STATEMENT

The new chief, Chiesa, issued this victory statement: "Thank you, San Rafael voters. I will do my best to fulfill the campaign promises I made to each and everyone. Your wonderful support gives me renewed confidence for a growing San Rafael."

Commenting on rumors that he might put Chief Kelly on as captain to permit Kelly to become eligible for the city pension program, Chiesa said this is not likely. "It would probably cause too much dissension," he said.

Chiesa announced he would make no personnel changes or reshuffling in the police force. "As long as each man does his job eight hours a day, there will be no reason to change," he said.

THANKS SUPPORTERS

Chiesa thanked his supporters, including campaign leaders Dr. Phillip E. Corin and Joseph Filippo, and his wife, Gloria, "my right arm." The new chief conducted a tireless 40-day campaign, ringing 6,000 door-

HERTER NAMED TO TAKE DULLES' PLACE IN PARIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter—rather than ailing Secretary John Foster Dulles — will represent the United States at a meeting of Western foreign ministers in Paris beginning April 29.

The conference will prepare the West for negotiations with the Soviet Union on the Berlin crisis at Geneva next month.

Announcing this, the State Department also disclosed today medical experts have been called to discuss Dulles' condition at Walter Reed Army Hospital this afternoon.

Press officer Lincoln White said a statement would be made after the meeting.

Physicians who will meet are those, White said, who have followed the course of the secretary's illness.

Governor May Call Special Smog Session

Brown Hints Auto Exhausts Would Be Prime Target

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown disclosed today he may call a special session of the Legislature next year on air pollution.

He said he interds to do so unless there is "some dramatic improvement" in smog conditions. And he hinted auto exhausts may be one of his targets.

The problem would be submitted to the Legislature when it meets in February for its budget session, restricted by law to finance matters.

DISCLOSES PLANS

Brown told of his plans for further state action against smog in a speech before a Los Angeles Town Hall luncheon. He flew here on a statewide speaking tour.

Earlier in a breakfast talk in Santa Barbara the governor spoke out against special interests he said have not been paying a fair share of taxes. He singled out race tracks, beer and oil industries. (See story on page 6.)

CURRENT BILLS

Discussing the smog issue here, Brown noted bills going through the Legislature now direct the state Department of Public Health to set standards for clean air by next Feb. 1.

He did not specify the measures he may seek in the special session but an aide explained it would depend on the findings of the health department.

In his speech, however, Brown left the strong impression that he also would consider steps against pollutants from auto exhausts.

URGENT DEMANDS

He said he hoped that urgent demands on Detroit will have brought tangible progress by February on an anti-smog exhaust device, adding:

"I am sorry to have to say that to date the automobile industry has shown far too much concern for chrome and not enough for a crash program against smog."

Recovery Of Space Cone Abandoned

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government space experts today gave up plans to try to recover a capsule from the Discoverer II satellite.

The Advance Research Projects Agency said that tracking reports from Discoverer II indicated the planned recovery of the capsule was not now feasible. It will therefore not be be attempted, the announcement said.

Roy Johnson, director of the agency, said something went wrong in the timing apparatus in the 1,600-pound vehicle.

The capsule is in the nose cone of Discoverer II, a 1,600-pound satellite launched yesterday from the Vandenberg Air Force Base Missile Center.

Across the nation at Cape Canaveral, Fla., the Air Force tried unsuccessfully yesterday to put three satellites into orbit from a single launching vehicle, Vanguard III.

The Vanguard's second stage failed to ignite about 30 minutes after it left the launching pad, when the missile apparently was about 200 miles high. Cause of the trouble was not known, officials said.

Had Discoverer II achieved proper stability, its instrumented nose cone was to have been kicked loose on command from ground tracking stations and float earthward beneath a parachute.

Eight Hawaii-based C119 Flying Boxcars were awaiting orders to swoop on the descending parachute and try to drape it across a 30-foot-long trapeze bar suspended beneath each plane. The parachute and capsule would then have been reeled into the plane.

The capsule contains instruments to supply oxygen and control heat and atmospheric pressure. Other instruments check how effective these environmental systems are. They are designed to keep small animals alive in future satellites. There is no animal in Discoverer II.

Despite abandonment of the recovery attempt, spokesmen said they were elated by the second successful orbit in the Discoverer series Discover I, fired Feb. 28, circled the earth 17 days before falling back into the atmosphere and burning up.

Friedman Sues Fairfax Over Street Paving

Max Friedman, who has lambasted the Fairfax City Council in months past for only paving a two-lane road on the Center boulevard extension which bisects his property, yesterday afternoon filed a whopping damage suit in Marin Superior Court.

Friedman asked the court to:

1. Award him $250,000 damages because Fairfax hasn't paved the full width of its 55.7-foot-wide right of way acquired from him by a condemnation suit a year ago for $41,170.

2. Award him $50,000 more as severance damages.

3. Order the City of Fairfax to pave the entire 55.7-foot width "with adequate drainage."

The Center boulevard extension, which connected Center boulevard in San Anselmo with Broadway in Fairfax, passes in front of a new Lucky Store which will open tomorrow. It is the first store in a shopping area planned by Friedman.

His damage suit was filed by Lawrence A. Cowen, San Rafael attorney.

The suit names as defendants Fairfax Mayor Edward A. Smith, Councilmen William Hughes, Albert Fox, Rolfe M. Ockenden and Kenneth Edgar and Fairfax City Engineer Albert H. Siemer.

Hearing On Survey Of Pt. Reyes Set

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today set for 10 a.m. on April 22, a public hearing on a request by Rep. Clement W. Miller that the board support a federally financed survey of the Pt. Reyes peninsula as a site for a federal recreation park.

In a letter from Miller, read to the supervisors this morning, the congressman replied to a telegram the board sent him last week asking just who would make such a survey.

The work would probably be done by a private research firm, Miller's letter stated. "It would have to stand on its own merits. The question is not whether we should have a park, but should we have a survey to find out the facts," it continued.

Miller previously wrote to the board that he intended to appear before the Senate Appropriations Committee to make a request for funds for such a survey and that he would appreciate a resolution by the supervisors favoring such an expenditure. The board has previously taken a stand against the creation of a park on the Pt. Reyes Peninsula.

San Rafael attorney Bryan McCarthy today told the board the request by Miller was an attempt "to pull your collective leg," and that the West Marin Property Owners Assn., which he represented, continues to oppose the park development.

Supervisor Vera Schultz, however, replied: "My understanding is that there are some people in the Pt. Reyes area who favor the park. We are continually hearing from Mr. McCarthy for the opposition. When the subject is discussed by the board, the other side should be notified also."

5th Candidate For Tam High Board Files

A fifth candidate for a single vacancy on the Tamalpais Union High School District board of trustees filed today with County Supt. Cirgil S. Hollis.

He is Warren G. Lefort, a certified public accountant who lives at 118 Richardson drive, Mill Valley.

Incumbent Howard I. McGill has not announced his intentions.

A fourth candidate for two vacancies on the Mill Valley School District's board, Mrs. Vera B. (Bonnie) Woodworth, filed today. Mrs. Woodworth, wife of a California Highway Patrol officer and advocate of consolidating the numerous Marin school districts lives at 62 Hawthorne avenue, Mill Valley.

No candidate has filed for two vacancies on the San Anselmo school board and one on the Union School District's board. Deadline to file as a candidate in the May 19 election is at 5 p.m. Friday at the county schools office, 317 Fourth street, San Rafael.

2 County School Budgets Passed Without Dispute

Two county schools superintendent's budgets, which had been bogged down in controversy and misunderstanding, breezed through the Marin County Board of Education last night without opposition.

Not only did the county board approve the $149,763 special classes and $342,415 county school service fund budgets, but it also heard the county superintendent outline plans for recruiting two new chief assistants to replace Richard L. Foster and Leland W. Harris, who resigned last week.

Supt. Virgil S. Hollis told the board he sees "no necessity to reduce personnel at this time." In spite of a tight budget, he went on, "if any of our staff goes, they go on their own volition."

He said he "likes the staff and they have proven themselves in the field," adding: "I would like to work with this staff for at least one year, and I hope the staff will want to work here."

Although he had not offered his staff new contracts, pending approval of the budget, "when they got by March 31, they were automatically blanketed in."

The service fund budget as passed provides for salaries at 94 per cent of the "ideal" salary schedule. Hollis orginally had proposed a 91 per cent scale, but increased it when the board proposed using the $15,000 unappropriated reserve fund for the purpose. The increase took about $11,000 of the fund.

Also eliminated from the budget was a recommendation that the consultant in either physical education or music be dropped from the staff. The only indication of lack of harmony between the board and the superintendent came when board member Robert G. Randolph quizzed Hollis closely on why the recommendation had been dropped.

Hollis, and board members,

County Hires First Negro Office Aide

On a list of appointments approved in routine fashion today by the Marin County Board of Supervisors was one that set a precedent.

The supervisors approved employment of Paul Brown as a draftsman in the county assessor's office, at $415 a month, effective May 4. He will replace Robert J. Benozzi, who resigned.

Brown is believed to be the first Negro ever hired for an office job in the Marin County Courthouse.

The 42-year-old Brown qualified for the job by examination, said Assessor Bert W. Broemmel. He is now employed by the state Division of Highways at Marysville. He came to the Bay Area after Army Air Forces service in World War II and attended Healds Business College in San Francisco. He is a native of Ohio.

Sausalito Petitions Commend Council Stand On Sandspit

Petitions commending the Sausalito City Council for approving commercial development of the city-owned sandspit were being circulated today, for presentation at tonight's city council meeting.

Yesterday, plans to force a bond election for city acquisition of the spit as a recreation site were announced by M. Justin Herman, spokesman for a group of opponents to plans of J. Eugene McAteer for a restaurant and shop development there.

Prior to last week's council meeting, when councilmen voted 3-2 to permit commercial use of the area "in principle," a move to support commercial use was announced by Russell S. Reagan of 1 Ewadrds avenue. He said an organization was being formed to be called the Sausalito Property Owners and Taxpayers Assn.

Petitions being circulated today "thank and commend the council for its action" and approve a plan which "will produce income for the city."

Proponents of commercial use of the small tongue of land have contended that it would not be economically sound for the city to acquire the sandspit for parks and recreation.

The opposition contends the sandspit should be reserved for this purpose as "belonging to the citizens of Sausalito" and that commercialization will destroy Sausalito's distinctive character.

Japan Volcano Comes To Life

NAGANO, Japan (AP) — Mt. Asama, one of few active volcanoes in Japan, erupted violently today, sending smoke and ashes 22,000 feet high. Wind-blown ashes sifted down on Tokyo and Yokohama, 85 miles to the southeast.

Far North State To Get Showers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Weather Bureau said a few showers are likely in California's extreme north late tonight or early tomorrow.

Fog or low overcast will continue on the coast.

The outlook otherwise is for mostly fair weather over the state for the next few days, at least.

Temperatures began a downward trend yesterday but still were above the mid-April average in most sections.

Coastal winds are northwesterly and at some northern headlands have exceeded 30 miles an hour at times.

Harbor, Recreation Area Proposed For Tidelands Owned By Larkspur

A variety of recreational facilities and berthing space for about 100 small boats are envisioned in a public recreation and yacht harbor development plan proposed for the City of Larkspur.

Prepared by City Manager Ronald E. Piper for the Larkspur Recreation Commission, the plan calls for development of about 20 of the 45 acres of city-owned tidelands adjacent to the new Larkspur school site. The property is on the south side of Corte Madera Creek.

Arroyo Holon Canal runs along the east side of the city property between the creek and Magnolia avenue. Under the proposed plan, the canal would be widened and deepened to permit navigation by small boats.

A yacht basin would be dredged along the west bank of the canal and equipped with finger piers containing about 100 berths. A launching ramp for trailer boats would be located at the north end of the harbor.

Also shown on the plan are a community center building, junior baseball diamond, four tennis courts, playground area and wading pool for small children, picnic area and parking facilities for about 300 cars.

The site development plan, which conforms with city master plan requirements, has been approved by the recreation commission and passed on to the city council for study.

Yet to be explored are ways of financing the ambitious project.

Ban On Burning Delayed Till May

"We're going to try to wait until the middle of May before putting a ban on open burning in unincorporated areas," Marin County Fire Chief Charles R. Reilley announced today.

The State Forestry Act states that the fire season can be affected on April 15 under normal conditions.

Chief Reilley said that in spite of the dry winter, it would be safe to burn trash openly for a while.

"We want people to burn trash as long as they can without inspections so they will get it all cleared away before the weather gets dangerously hot and dry," he said.

No permits are required in unincorporated areas at present for burning at one and two-unit dwellings. Permits are required for extensive burning at night.

Fairfax Lucky Store Opens Tomorrow

Curious housewives will get their first chance to investigate the new Lucky Store in Fairfax when it opens its doors at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Under construction since last July, the concrete market building with exposed aggregate surface represents an investment of half a million dollars. It contains about 25,000 square feet of floor space.

The supermarket is on property of Max Friedman, bisected by the Center boulevard extension opened last year. Friedman is leasing the building to Lucky Stores, Inc., of San Leandro.

Store hourse will be 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. daily except Thursday and Friday, when the market will remain open until 10 o'clock at night.

Modern touches in the new Lucky store include wide aisles, a pleasant "bluish" interior color scheme, 120 feet of refrigerated cabinets for self-service selection of meats and delicatessen items, large selection of frozen foods and produce, and easy-running chrome shopping carts.

Customers will enter the air-conditioned supermarket through "magic-carpet doors."

Parking for about 250 cars is provided in two parking lots on opposite sides of the store.

Contractor for the supermarket was Clarewood Co. of Berkeley, which is planning a second Marin Lucky store on Magnolia avenue in Larkspur. Architect for the Fairfax Lucky store was Art Iwata of Berkeley.

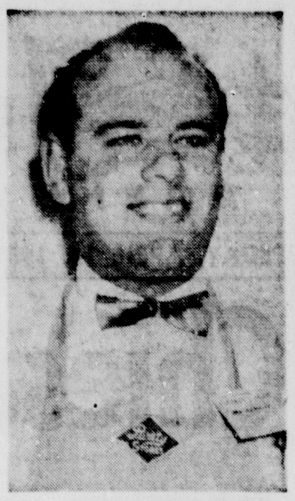

Schultz Firm Loses Plea In Land Trial

Schultz Investment Co., developer of Greenbrae, lost out yesterday afternoon in Marin Superior Court when a jury awarded it $58,020 for a five-and-one-half acre parcel of land taken by the state Department of Public Works for a freeway ramp.

The jury of three men and nine women voted 9-3 for the settlement after six hours of deliberation. The condemnation jury trial had been going four weeks before Judge N. Charles Brusatori.

The Schultz firm had asked for $220,000 plus $45,000 severance damages for state seizure in 1955 of the land at Highway 101 and Sir Francis Drake boulevard. The state originally offered $55,000 and no severance damages.

Attorney M. Mitchell Bourquin of San Francisco represented the Schultz company. William De Martini and Roger Anderson, both of San Francisco, were attorneys for the Division of Highways.

Lenci Named Manager Of Purity Store

Louis Lenci Jr. has been named manager of the Purity Store on Sir Francis Drake boulevard in San Anselmo, succeeding Owen Smart, who was transferred to a new store in the Henderson Center in Eureka.

Lenci has been employed in the San Anselmo store for three years. He was store winner in the recent "Checker of the Year" contest conducted by Purity Stores.

A former Woodacre resident for nine years, Lenci now resides in Cotati. His wife is the former Rita Farley of Nicasio. They have a year-old daughter.

Marines Start Back For Hawaii

CAMP PENDLETON (UPI) — Hawaii-based leathernecks of the 1st Marine Brigade will start home this week from nearby San Diego.

About 5,500 men arrived at camp for a major amphibious exercise which ended last Friday. One group of home-bound Marines will sail Thursday and a second group will depart April 23.

One battalion of leathernecks will remain at camp to participate in maneuvers slated for late next month, then rejoin the brigade in Hawaii in early June.

Non-Licensed Earth-Moving Irks Council

The name of Charles L. Harney, high-powered San Francisco contractor who lives in San Rafael, is down in the dirt as far as the Fairfax City Council is concerned.

Harney's trucks have been hauling away a Fairfax hill load-by-load since last fall and he has never obtained a $25 Fairfax contractors' license. The dirt moving is to end May 1.

Councilman Rolfe Ockenden, a building contractor who works along with his men, declared at last night's city council meeting: "Here's an outfit with hundreds of thousands of dollars but any little contractor who comes into Fairfax gets slapped with a license fee."

City Atty. Wallace S. Myers demurred that there wasn't a legal foundation for requiring a license.

"I don't think he's doing business in Fairfax," said Myers. "Show me someone in Fairfax he has a contract with."

The property on Sir Francis Drake boulevard, next to Big Bear Market, where the earth-moving and blasting operation has been under way, is listed as belonging to C. J. Carroll of San Francisco, who is secretary for Charles L. Harney, Inc. The property has a 600-foot frontage on Drake boulevard and extends back 150 feet. Behind it is unincorporated land belonging to the Catholic Church.

Councilman William Hughes asked what the Harney company's attitude was to taking out the $25 license.

"They were approached," replied City Clerk Alice Leonesio.

"It's a moral problem," said Mayor Edward A. Smith. "I'm very disappointed that an outfit as large as Charles Harney should be so small."

Councilman Kenneth M. Edgar said an Associated Oil service station and a sporting goods store are planned for the property adjoining Big Bear Market after Harney finishes levelling it.

Bank Branch Here Expands

Crocker-Anglo National Bank's San Rafael office has expanded its quarters after only four months of operation, it was announced by president Paul E. Hoover. The enlargement was made to better accommodate the bank's San Rafael automotive finance department.

Opened in the Montecito Shopping Center at Third street and Grand avenue in mid-December of last year, the San Rafael office originally occupied 4,800 square feet, including a mezzanine. Now the automotive finance department, which has occupied space at the rear of the banking room, has moved into-half of a 2,400-square-foot store adjacent to the banking office. It is expected that the department, eventually, will expand into the entire store space, Hoover said.

Enlargement of the office entailed cutting an archway through the banking room to the new auto finance quarters and the installation there of a teller's counter, two payment windows and a glassed-in private office for the department manager. A second entrance to this newly occupied area opens directly off the canopied mall at the front of the office.

Fairfax Council Calls Bids On Street Work

The Fairfax City Council last night called for bids on four street improvement projects, to be opened May 11.

The four projects, estimated to cost $33,000 and financed by state gasoline taxes, have been approved by the Division of Highways.

A two-inch plant mix surface would be added to Sir Francis Drake boulevard from the east city limits to Olema road, to Cascade drive from Bolinas avenue to Meadow way, and to Meernaa avenue from Creek road to Porteous avenue.

Reconstruction of Bolinas avenue from Cascade drive to 350 feet south of Porteous with 2½-inch plant mix surface over a composite base is the fourth project.

In other business last night, the Fairfax City Council:

1. Approved warrants totalling $16,412.
2. Turned down the zoning appeal of Barry W. Rogers of 18 Redwood road, who wanted to construct a duplex on a 6,000 square foot lot adjoining his home. Rogers presented a petition signed by 30 Manor Hill property owners who said they had no objection to a duplex. Waldemar E. Radtke, planning commission chairman, said Rogers' property was in an area proposed for single family residences by a new zoning ordinance now in preparation. Rogers' attorney, Edward J. Bloom of San Francisco, told the council that Rogers "shouldn't be denied use of his property by an ordinance not yet adopted."
3. Adopted an ordinance allowing developer Thomas Hotchkin to erect 32 apartment units on a three-acre property behind Manor School.
4. Set a public hearing for May 11 at 8 p.m. on a zoning ordinance amendment allowing medical, dental and other professional offices in apartment zones.
5. Set a public hearing for May 11 on a petition from California Pacific Title Co. of San Rafael that the city annex a 349-foot long strip of land between Sir Francis Drake boulevard and Westbrae subdivision. The irregularly shaped property is 100 feet wide at its widest point.
6. Took no action on a proposal to install an underground drainage pipe at city expense if the Fairfax Lumber Co. pays for materials and fills in a ditch beside Drake boulevard on lumber company property.
7. On suggestion of Councilman Rolfe Ockenden, established a policy of sending city employees to training schools at city expense, and voted to send Robert Cartelyou, fire department captain, to a May 18-22 fire training school at Fresno.
8. Voted to purchase six $132 fire hydrants and pay for installation, and authorized Fire Chief Charles Thornton to buy an $88 Civil Defense pick-up truck.

Economic Aid For Hard-Hit Areas Passed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House banking subcommittee, splitting along party lines, today approved a program of aid for economcially distressed areas. It was almost five times as big as the program recommended by President Eisenhower.

However, the 250-million-dollar measure was considerably smaller than the 389,500,000-million-dollar bill which passed the Senate last month.

Subcommittee Democrats who originally supported the Senate bill cut back its size in an apparent effort to attract Republican support and reduce chance of a presidential veto.

The Senate on March 23 passed its bill by vote of 49 to 46—far short of the two-thirds margin that would be needed if Eisenhower vetoed it, as he did similar legislation a year ago.

The trimmed-down bill cleared the subcommittee by a 3 to 2 vote. Democrats voted for it, Republicans against it.

The President has proposed a 53-million-dollar program, consisting of 50 million dollars in loans for industrial areas and three million dollars in technical assistance grants.

Clear Lake Land Row Case Delayed

LAKEPORT (AP) — Lake County Superior Court is moving slowly concerning a white subdivider's attempt to evict 11 Indians from seven and a half acres nearby Cache Creek.

Subdivider Paul Lewis says he has a valid deed to the land in this booming resort area near Clear Lake, 80 miles north of San Francisco.

Clifford Salvador, 87, contends his ancestors and those of the other Indians had lived on the land since long before the whites arrived. He does not recognize Lewis' deed.

Lawyers for both sides agreed yesterday to a delay in trying the case so that Lewis' attorneys could study the background. That may take three months or more.

Ike Off To Resume Interrupted Vacation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower left aboard the presidential plane Colombine III for Augusta, Ga., today to resume a golfing vacation that was interrupted by some pressing business.

The President returned to the sunny southland a day after flying here to talk with ailing Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, meet with Republican legislative leaders at the White House, and dedicate a memorial to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft.

New Divinity Dean

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Rev. Samuel H. Miller, D.D., pastor of Old Cambridge Baptist church and professor of pastoral theology at Harvard, has been named dean of the Harvard Divinity School.

His appointment was announced last night simultaneously with the announcement of the retirement of Rev. Douglas Horton, D.D., as dean.

San Jose Trustees Lease Hamilton Land

Trustees of San Jose School District last night executed a lease with the federal government for approximately 14 acres next to the Meadow Park School on the grounds of Hamilton Air Force Base.

The property will be used for a 10-classroom and multi-use room addition to the present five-room school, to serve children from the 550-family Capehart Housing Project now under construction.

Building of the new schoolrooms, and remodeling of the existing five rooms are expected to start within a month to six weeks, according to Supt. Phillip W. Schneider.

The lease executed last night is for 45 years, with an option to renew for an additional 25.

The board also approved two other expansions of district school facilities: construction of a kindergarten at the 13-classroom Lynwood School and of a six-classroom addition to the eight-classroom Loma Verde School.

Schneider told the board the district is now entitled to state aid to build approximately 9,000 square feet of classroom space. The planned additions would use up this entitlement, he said.

Schneider estimated today that construction should start in about six months, with completion probably about the end of next school year.

Schneider noted that additional residential construction in the district should boost state aid entitlement substantially by next fall, and that the additional entitlement will probably make available enough state aid funds to allow building an upper-grade school somewhere in the district.

Terra Linda Postal Branch Plans Snagged

Plans for a San Rafael Post Office branch for the Terra Linda area have hit a snag.

No bids to house the proposed branch were received by the deadline yesterday, it was reported by John W. Keast, regional real estate office for the Post Office Department.

"The situation needs further study and analysis," Keast said. He said there would have to be a meeting of department officials to decide what move to make in the area.

Keast said he is not authorized to release information relative to the reasons why there was a failure to receive bids.

After the Post Office Department had called for bids for a post office in the Terra Linda area, the county planning department proposed the office be located on county civic center property in Santa Venetia.

The Post Office department had specified a 3,978-square foot interior, a 714-square foot mail loading platform and 10,430 square feet of paved area for postal trucks. Bidders were to present lease figures.

Wanted: New Parents

TORONTO (AP) — The Ontario government is considering running newspaper ads in an effort to get parents for about 11,000 children available in the province for adoption.

The children are aged 4 to 16. There is no trouble finding homes for younger ones.

"There may be some initial criticism that we are merchandising children, but this is not the case," said Deputy Welfare Minister James S. Band. "All we are attempting to merchandise is a child's happiness."

Apartment Zoning, Market Plans Win Planners' Vote

Apartment rezoning of four lots in Sunnyside Terrace and revised plans for a proposed supermarket were approved last night by the Corte Madera Planning Commission.

The controversial Sunnyside Terrace rezoning will, if upheld by the city council, permit developers Carl S. Vella and Cleland O. Whitton to proceed with construction of 18 apartment units on the four lots. The property fronts Redwood avenue on the west side of the town park.

The planners recommended that the lots be rezoned from a duplex to an apartment district. The latter permits one dwelling unit per 2,000 square feet of site area. Plans of the developers show landscaped inner courts for the proposed two-story structures.

Two members of the audience spoke in opposition to the rezoning last night and two expressed favor. Opponents of the change said today they will circulate a petition for presentation to the city council.

Plans for a modern 22,000-square-foot Embee market, proposed for the Paradise drive shopping center, were approved first by the town board of design and then by the planning commission last night. Final action will be taken by the council.

The market, to be of steel and concrete block construction, would represent the first phase of a shopping center to be built on a nine-acre site adjacent to Marin Estates, south of Paradise drive. Plans for a General Petroleum Co. service station on the site already have been approved.

In other matters last night the planning commission recommended that the council:

1. Amend the town zoning ordinance by raising permissible lot coverage in one-family residential districts to 35 per cent for lots of 6,000 square feet or less and providing a sliding scale for larger lots, ranging to 30 per cent for those 7,500 square feet in area. The present requirement is a flat 30 per cent for all lots.
2. Authorize erection of a directional sign at Tamalpais drive and Madera boulevard, with arrows pointing to the central business district and the Corte Madera shopping center.
3. Approve developer Frank Rusalem's revised landscaping plan for the center island of Madera boulevard, between Tamal Vista and Mohawk avenues.

Principal Chosen For New Larkspur School

Mervin Gootherts, 39, eighth grade teacher at Larkspur-Corte Madera School for seven years, will be principal of Larkspur's new elementary school.

The Larkspur School District board appointed him last night and named Robert Johnson as teaching vice principal of Neil Cummins School. Johnson, 36, has taught sixth grade at Neil Cummins for four years.

Gootherts came to the district from a teaching job in Daly City. He attended San Mateo Junior College, received a bachelor of arts degree from San Francisco State College and, later, a master's degree. He and his wife, Helen, and their two sons live at 29 Lakeside drive, Corte Madera.

Johnson taught in San Francisco eight years before taking his present teaching job. He attended the University of Minnesota and UCLA before obtaining his bachelor of arts and master's degrees from San Francisco State. He lives at 43 Durham road, San Anselmo, with his wife, Barbara, and their three children.

Juvenile Aide Gets Security For Pay Cut

There are good reasons why a man is willing to take a drop in salary to work for the County of Marin, the board of supervisors agreed today in approving appointment of David Fogel as superintendent of the county juvenile hall.

The supervisors last week asked County Administrator Donald A. Jensen to investigate why Fogel, executive director of the Berkeley Jewish Community Center at $625 a month, was willing to work for Marin County for less money. He was hired at $530 a month. The inquiry was touched off when Chief Probation Officer Walter Busher asked that Fogel's starting pay be hiked to $556.

Jensen told the board that Fogel is willing to take a pay reduction "for job security and because of the possibility of developing a new program at the hall."

The board took under advisement H. Busher's recommendation that the salary be hiked to $556.

bells in San Rafael. He said he found better than 60 per cent of the people at home in the mornings and more than 90 per cent in the evenings.

Chiesa, who served 20 years with the San Rafael Police Department, working up from patrolman to lieutenant, risked his career by resigning from the force on Feb. 24 to run against his boss.

He had been trying for a promotion to captaincy to be in line for the top job when 58-year-old Chief Kelly quit. When he failed to get the promotion, he decided to go all-out for the top job.

BODY

of a 15-year-old girl, Alice Mary Flores, who died in 1912. A gold necklace around her neck, gold bracelet on the left arm and two gold rings could be easily seen, said Coroner Keaton. This skeleton was not disturbed.

Keaton and Mountanos said they suspected the body-snatching was the work of vandals, since the girl's jewelry was untouched.

The bare bones of the body, without connecting tissue to hold them together, must have disintegrated when they were touched, said Keaton.

Body snatching is a felony offense, said Mountanos. Ellis Siebert, the sheriff's chief criminal investigator, is working on the case.

The same cemetery vaul was broken into in December, 1957, but nothing was disturbed, said Keaton.

The two smashed crypts were the only two in the vault which were marked with inscriptions. They are opposite each other, the middle crypts in a tier of three on each side of a center walkway.

Buried in the vault were seven bodies—two those of infants—from the three intermarried Portuguese families who have been long time residents of Sausalito.

In addition to Barreios and the young girl, the vault was the final resting place for a one-month-old Ignacio baby who died in 1915; a 13-month-old Flores baby who died in the 1918 flu epidemic; Manuel Ignacio, a former Sausalito city councilman who died in 1944 at the age of 63; Genevieve Ignacio, mother of Manuel, who died in 1941 at age 96, and Manuel Flores, 58, who died in 1934.

Fire Truck Shift To Be Discussed

Commissioners of the Bolinas Fire District last night announced that all Bolinas residents are urged to attend a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock with the board of supervisors at the county courthouse, when a proposal to move the county fire truck from Bolinas is scheduled for discussion.

It had been previously annouced that the truck is to be moved to the new Throckmorton Ridge county fire department station in accordance with state Division of Forestry regulations.

Chairman-secretary Norman Ford was formally inducted last night for an additional three-year term. He was unopposed for re-election to the board in last week's election.

Siamese Twins Due

LONDON (UPI)—A woman in the north of England is expected to give birth to Siamese twins in the next week or so, doctors said today.

The woman is in a hospital in Lancashire, but doctors refused to identify her or say how the babies are joined. The fact that she is expecting Siamese twins has been confirmed by X-ray.

Larkspur Offers Job To Harris

Larkspur School District has a job for Leland W. Harris, who resigned as assistant county superintendent of schools rather than take a $1,280 cut in pay.

Trustees of the district last night authorized Supt. Carl Tivel to offer Harris the proposed new position of business manager of the district. Tivel recommended Harris for the job, saying that obtaining his services would be "a real achievement for the district."

How much money Harris would be offered was not specified, but Larkspur school salaries are the highest in Marin County and among the highest in California.

Harris receives $12,148 for the current year from the county schools department. Supt. Virgil S. Hollis cut off $1,288 of the salary which is paid from the school services fund, leaving Harris' pay at $9,860 for next year. Harris then resigned.

Tivel indicated he will present the offer when Harris returns next week from a convention he is attending in San Diego.

Trustees Call Bids On Audit

Sausalito School District trustees, last night tabled a scheduled discussion of policy and rules on use of school facilities and called for bids on auditing district books.

The board interposed no objection to a 75-unit apartment project planned by the Lang Construction Co. on Waldo Point adjacent to the proposed Redwood Psychiatric Hospital. The builders announced it would be operated as a "no-children" apartment project due to type and size of apartments proposed. The area is now in county territory, but the builders plan to seek annexation to Sausalito at tonight's city council meeting.

Nurses To Meet

The Marin County Nurses Assn. will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. at Marin General Hospital annex. Guest speaker will be Dr. Charles M. Secor, whose topic will be "Common Orthopedic Problems and Treatment."

OBITUARIES

Final Rites Held For James Kean

A Requiem High Mass was offered today at St. Raphael's Church for James A. Kean of San Rafael, who died at his home Saturday evening after six months of illness. He was 80.

Kean resided at 810 Fifth avenue with his wife, Margaret, since coming to Marin County 44 years ago from San Francisco. A native of Harpers Ferry, Iowa, Kean came to the Bay Area just before the 1906 earthquake.

While living in San Francisco, Kean was employed by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. as an electrical lineman. He later worked for Pacific Gas and Electric Co. here and during World War II he was employed by the government at Fts. Baker, Barry and Cronkhite.

He was a life member of the Knights of Columbus Lodge 1292 and a member of Holy Names Society of St. Raphael's Church. He was formerly affiliated with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

In addition to his wife, Kean is survived by a daughter and son, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Giles of Mill Valley and James J. Kean of San Rafael, who is an Independent-Journal printer; a brother, Charles Kean of Dyersville, Iowa; and four grandchildren.

Interment was in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma, directed by Keaton's Mortuary.

Herbert E. Holt Rites Thursday

Funeral services for Herbert E. Holt, 89, of 9 Sierra circle, San Rafael, will be held at the Chapel of the Hills on Thursday at 11 a.m. Burial will be private.

Holt died Saturday afternoon after two weeks hospitalization.

He came to Marin County two years ago with his daughter, Mrs. Adele V. Martinovich, and her family. He had lived with the Martinovichs since the death of his wife, Adele, seven years ago.

A retired bakery salesman, Holt worked 35 years for the Old Homestead Bakery of San Francisco. He was a member of Bakery Wagon Drivers and Salesmen's Union Local 484 of San Francisco.

He left his birthplace, England, for the sea during his youth. Meanwhile, his parents migrated to Winnipeg, Canada, and, later, to Berkeley. Holt joined them in the 1890s, remaining in the Bay Area.

Ike Eulogizes Taft In Rites Dedicating Capitol Memorial

Lauds Late Ohio Senator As Rights Champion

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower dedicated a towering memorial today to the late Sen,. Robert A. Taft. He praised Taft as a man who gave generously and unstintingly of himself "for the good of all America."

Eisenhower honored a former political rival and ally at ceremonies at the base of a 100-foot bell tower erected at the foot of Capital Hill in memory of the Ohio senator.

CHAMPION OF RIGHTS

Taft, Eisenhower said, was a liberal in championing individual rights and the symbol of conservatism in everything affecting the national economy.

Former President Herbert Hoover and high government officials also participated with Eisenhower in the dedication.

Hoover depicted Taft as a man who chose to die with his boots on rather than to desert his post. He called Taft "an official with a social conscience" and said: "He not only would not desert his post, he never deserted his people."

ACCEPT TOWER

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) arranged to accept the marble tower on behalf of Congress.

Eisenhower, in a brief prepared address, voiced his personal gratitude to Taft for "the priceless gift of friendship" and the wisdom and experience offered by the senator "whenever I needed him most."

To Eisenhower, Taft was the rival over whom the former general strode to the Republican presidential nomination in 1952. Taft also was the Republican leader in the Senate in the Eisenhower administration's infancy.

'COMMANDING FIGURE'

"All knew him as a commanding figure on Capitol Hill," Eisenhower said.

The tower is the only memorial to an individual Congress has permitted to be erected on the capitol grounds.

At the base of the tower is a 10-foot-high statue of Taft, whose death from cancer July 31, 1953, ended a career that included four unsuccessful bids for the Republican presidential nomination.

Above the statue are inscribed these words:

"This memorial to Robert A. Taft, presented by the people to the Congress of the United States, stands as a tribute to the honesty, indomitable courage and high principles of free government symbolized by his life."

TAFT TOWER — Workmen put final touches to newcomer on the capital scene. The slim 100-foot-high pink marble bell tower, dedicated today, is a memorial to Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Tumbling Rock Smashes Car

Sunday about 11:30 a.m., Robert M. Burns of 206 Bayview avenue, Belvedere, was working in his yard as many other homeowners do on weekends.

His project at the moment was to move a large rock.

But the rock somehow broke away from Burns' control, crashed down a hillside, knocked down a fair-sized tree and eventually stopped (with the tree) on Beach road below his home.

Under the rock, when it stopped was a car (smashed) belonging to Mrs. Dolly Keaton at 100 Beach road.

Fortunately, no one was in the car.

Brown Challenges 'Special Interests' To Bear Tax Share

Singles Out Race Track, Beer, Oil Industries In Hard-Hitting Speech

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown today challenged the race tracks and the beer and oil industries to pay their fair share of his 256-million-dollar tax program.

In a hard-hitting speech to the Channel City Club, the governor urged the people to keep a sharp eye on special interest groups to see if they will go along with his tax proposals.

"The general public pays its way," he said. "It is time now that these special interest groups pay theirs."

Brown was due here last night but fog prevented his plane from landing on the trip from Fresno and he was forced to spend the night in Los Angeles where the craft put down at International Airport. He left there early to keep today's scheduled talk here.

Halfway through his whirlwind two-day tour of California, the governor disclosed he plans to ask the legislature to approve a 2 per cent tax on oil imported into the state.

His new proposal would do the same for foreign oil that he proposes to do for California oil companies—levy a 2 per cent severance tax on the extraction of oil and gas and petroleum products.

Brown said California oilmen complained that they would be at a competitive disadvantage if the new tax were enacted unless imported oil paid a similar tax. "I agree that this tax on imports is only fair," he said.

TAX PROGRAM

The Democratic governor's tax program currently is under consideration by the Legislature in Sacramento. It includes a new cigarette tax, boosts in taxes on higher incomes, an increase from the present two cents a gallon tax on beer to seven cents, the new oil tax, a bigger bite out of race track receipts and higher bank and corporation taxes.

"I have proposed higher consumer taxes and higher income taxes," he said. "But equally important, I have proposed taxes on groups which have not been bearing their honest share of the cost of government. I refer specifically to the race tracks, the beer industry and the oil industry."

'ONLY FAIR'

Brown said the insurance companies and banks, both of which will be hit by his tax program, had agreed to go along and that it was "only fair that these other industries do the same."

"I call on every Californian to watch how they act toward the revenue program," he said. "See whether they are willing to bear the same cost of government that you and I bear, or whether they will demand special privilege, selfish exemptions which will shift the burden to those less able to pay."

Improvement Clubs Hit Tax Campaign

The Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs unanimously condemned last night an attempt by the Marin County Taxpayers Assn. to sell memberships on the basis of a claim it can recover $6,000 in 1956-57 taxes by suing the county.

The federation, made up of delegates from improvement clubs throughout the county, adopted a resolution stating it "disapproves of the efforts of the taxpayers' association to collect membership dues on the strength of taking part in a proposed suit against the county."

P. J. Rowland, president of the taxpayers' association, had written asking the federation to join in the suit. The association claims six million dollars levied during the two years under a 26 per cent blanket assessment increase, ordered by the state board of Equalization, was illegal.

The federation, meeting in the county courthouse, further resolved to recommend to member clubs that they also disapprove of the taxpayers assn's. campaign.

The federation rejected by a vote of 7 to 6 a proposal by Marin County Planning Commissioner Margaret Azevedo that it support a proposed committee to study revisions in the county's planning standards.

"We opposed it mainly because the committee would allow us no control over its activities," said Arthur K. Smart, federation president.

Lack Of Two Votes Stalls Narcotics Bill In Senate

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill which its author said "declares all-out war on narcotics offenders" failed to win passage by a slim two-vote margin yesterday.

The bill (SB 728) was introduced by Sen. Donald Grunsky (R-Watsonville) who was short two "aye" votes for the necessary 21 votes for passage.

"It was this bunch of 'civil liberties' freshmen who beat me today," Grunsky stated after the session.

"Two years ago there wouldn't have been any doubt as to the passage of this bill."

Grunsky placed a call on the Senate, but three missing senators could not be located. He then lifted the call, moved for reconsideration and the bill was placed back on file.

The three missing senators were Hugh Burns (D-Fresno), Alan Erhart (R-Pismo Beach) and James J. McBride (D-Ventura).

"I'm not going to take it up again," Grunsky said, "until I'm sure I have the 21 votes present. If I can't get that vote, I'll leave the bill die on the file and the opponents will have to answer to the people who want more protection against the growing narcotics menace."

Grunsky's bill states that all competent, relevant and material evidence shall be admissible in narcotics cases and not be excluded because of the manner in which it was obtained.

Complaint Against Klahn Unsigned; Matter Held Up

A complaint charging battery against Bert Klahn, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority, has not been signed, it was reported today by officials of the Palo Alto-Mountain View Municipal Court.

Klahn was to have appeared in court yesterday to answer the charge entered by his wife, Mrs. Eleanor Klahn. Palo Alto police said she told them Klahn kicked her after returning to their home at 776 Garland drive, Palo Alto, last Wednesday night.

A court official said the police department reported the complaint has not been signed, and that the matter is being held up for two weeks.

Klahn commutes daily from Palo Alto to his job in Marin City.

Bill Abolishing Presidential Primary Passed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bill to abolish the presidential primary in California today went to the Assembly, after squeaking through the Senate.

The Senate approved it yesterday 21-18, the bare minimum.

Republicans Swift Berry of Placerville and Randolph Collier of Yreka joined 19 Democrats in passing the bill by Sen. James A. Cobey (D-Merced).

'STEP BACKWARD'

Only seven Democrats voted against the bill, which Gov. Edmund G. Brown called "a step backward."

Sen. Albert Rodda (D-Sacramento) said elimination of the primary would take selection of a president too far from the people of California.

The bill provides for state central committees to select delegates to national party conventions. At present voters select delegates at the primaries.

CALLS SYSTEM FARCE

Cobey claimed the present system is a farce because party leaders in effect already select the primary ticket.

Elected delegates to national conventions are bound to vote for a certain candidate only on the first ballot.

But often, Cobey said, the delegates are pledged to a "native son" who is not a real candidate, thus lessening California's effectiveness on the first ballot in the national conventions.

"With our strength growing, we should not dissipate our bargaining power," Cobey said.

Small Boat Safety Rules Approved

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Legislation to provide statewide safety rules for small boats moved to the Assembly floor today with the approval of the Ways and Means Committee.

The lower house financial body unanimously approved the small craft traffic laws yesterday. If the bill, authored by Assemblyman Rex Cunningham (D-Ventura), passes the Assembly, it still must face a full series of legislative tests in the Senate.

GOP Stalls Tax Measure

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Republicans have delayed progress of another of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's tax bills.

Solid GOP opposition yesterday prevented Democrats on the Assembly Ways and Means Committee from sending the governor's inheritance tax proposal to the Assembly floor.

With three Democrats absent, Chairman Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles) had only 11 votes for the measure. He needed 12. So he reset the bill for next Thursday.

Brown estimates the bill would raise two million dollars extra revenue next year and eight million in subsequent years. It would raise the rates of state taxes on inheritances left to distant relatives and friends, and disallow deduction of federal inheritance taxes.

The measure is part of Brown's 256-million-dollar tax program.

Another U.S. Plane Buzzed By Russ Jets

BERLIN (UPI)—Two Soviet jet fighters buzzed an American Air Force cargo plane and forced it to reduce altitude while it was crossing East Germany on a flight from West Berlin April 3, a U. S. Embassy spokesman said today in Bonn.

It was the second such incident and came while the United States and the Soviet Union were embroiled in a series of protests and counter-protests involving another buzzing by MIGs on Good Friday, March 27.

U. S. PROTEST

Only yesterday the United States delivered a protest to the Soviet Foreign Ministry in Moscow charging that Russia intentionally created a hazard to flight safety in the Berlin air corridor when it buzzed the first plane.

A new protest against the second incident has been lodged at the Berlin Air Safety Center, informed sources said.

Both planes were harrassed because they were flying at altitudes above 10,000 feet in the 20-mile-wide air corridors leading from West Germany to West Berlin. The United States does not accept such a ceiling on its flights.

FORCED DOWN

The first plane buzzed was a C130 which usually flies at an altitude of 20,000 feet or more. The second one was a C97 which usually flies at 10,000 to 15,000 feet. It was the one forced down to a lower level by menacing sweeps of the MIG jets.

The C97 was using the southernmost of the three 20-mile-wide air corridors and was flying at an altitude of about 12,000 feet when the two Soviet jet fighters approached from the rear.

One figher crossed over the top of the American plane, the other crossed just under the American's belly. At this point, the spokesman said, the U. S. pilot decided to drop down to below 10,000 feet and apparently was permitted to proceed without further harassment.

BUDGETS

too, expressed concern at the inadequacy of the unappropriated reserve, approved at only $1,680. But the superintendent said that if county school districts will contract for only three more man days per week, this will add $6,000, and a state deficiency appropriation of 50 per cent, which it has been in the the past, would add another $8,000 to the budget. Together they would bring the unappropriated reserve back to $15,000, he noted.

"If they don't come through," he said in answer to a question, "we'll know by August and then we'll have to do some belt-tightening."

Hollis laid down a four-step program he intends to follow in selection of men to replace Foster and Harris. But he made it clear that he considers their selection "clearly the responsibility of the county superintendent." He said he intends to confer on the selections with both the county board and district superintendents.

REJECTS PROPOSAL

He rejected a proposal that a screening committee be set up to assist with the selection.

He proposed "a wide, thorough search for the caliber men desired by this county." He said that although the vacancies had not yet been officially announced, he already has 10 applicants for the jobs, only one of whom is from Marin County.

In answer to a question he said he had decided against filling the positions by elevating members of the present staff. These are the steps he plans:

1. Announce the vacancies to all placement bureaus both in and out of the state.

2. Request each agency to recommend two top men. This does not preclude other direct applications, Hollis noted.

3. Select some of these recommended men to visit and interview. He invited members of the board to accompany him on these interview trips. "But since the responsibility rests somewhat in me by law to make the selection, it will be necessary for me to make a recommendation to you," he said.

IMMEDIATE PROBLEM

4. The man to replace Harris as business manager is "a more immediate problem" and concentration at first will be on him. "I can take more time to find a curriculum man" to replace Foster, said Hollis.

Board member Adele Aplers said she felt the selection was "a problem for the professionals" and urged that Hollis consult the district superintendents.

Passage of the special classes budget came after Edwin L. Blackmore, administrative assistant to the superintendent, explained a new "sort of board of directors" which was being set up to advise on the program for the mentally retarded. The seven-man "board" would be selected from districts participating in the program and the county office.

If this is successful with the mentally retarded program, the plan is to expand its activities into the blind, deaf, orthopedically handicapped and other special classes, Hollis said.

$41,000 INCREASE

The special classes budget for 1959-60 showed an increase of $41,000 over the current budget. Although it includes only one teacher and classroom for the mentally retarded, instead of two as had been proposed, the class is to be a double session one.

In addition, a new class is to be started for the blind, one for the hard of hearing and second teachers added for the deaf and at juvenile hall.

The county school budget service fund budget as adopted was only $5,000 more than the current year. The increase came in the audio-visual program and was provided by an increase of 10 cents per average daily attendance for schools using the program.

In an effort to dispell some misunderstanding about the three budgets under which the county superintendent's office operates, board member Nancy Rust read to the board a statement she had prepared.

The first is county funds, $113,878, appropriated in the supervisors' county budget. This fund pays administrative expenses of the office, part of the superintendent's salary, the county board, school district organization, and about $19,000 of the special class program. It has been approved by the county board and forwarded to the supervisors for consideration at their budget hearings. This is the only direct county tax money the superintendent's office receives, she said.

The service fund is furnished two-thirds by the state and one-third from services sold to the school districts.

The special classes program is paid for two-thirds by the state, a fifth by school districts and an eighth by the county (the $19,000).

Mrs. Alpers praised the report and suggested the superintendent make a similar report in such a form it could be circulated. Hollis agreed and chairman Ted V. Cole appointed Mrs. Rust to work with Hollis on the project.

Reds Claim Dalai Lama Held Captive By Rebels

TOKYO (AP)—The Panchen Lama, the puppet ruler of Tibet, and Premier Chou En-lai of Red China contended today that the Dalai Lama is being held in duress by rebel elements in India.

Both spoke at a reception for the Panchen Lama on his arrival in Peiping, the Red Chinese capital.

Chou told the guests, Peiping Radio said, that the Dalai Lama was being held outside Tibet and that the Red Chinese were "greatly concerned" about him.

The Panchen Lama said the Dalai Lama, temporal and spiritual ruler whose government has been deposed by Red China was snatched by the rebel when the Tibetan people were progressing on the road to socialism, and that the act was a "betrayal of the motherland."

Actually, the Dalai Lama asked for asylum in India, saying it was impossible to remain in Tibet where his followers are in revolt against Red rule.

The 21-year-old Panchen Lama, elevated to the leadership of Tibet when the Dalai Lama fled to India, has been quoted by Peiping as promising full support for Communist control of his rebellious country.

The Indian government announced that the Dalai Lama and his 80-member entourage will arrive at the railhead town of Texpur, in northeast India, Saturday.

Victim's Plea Saves 2 From Electric Chair

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Two handsome youths were saved from the electric chair yesterday by the plea of a tiny, gray-haired spinster they abused and raped.

Instead, Michael F. Miller and Thomas Nevin Eckenrod, both 18, were sentenced to life in prison.

Their 50-year-old victim sat outside the courtroom, nervously fingering a golden cross, as the pair heard the verdict. She peered through a glass door as the neatly dressed youths rose to be sentenced.

PLEADED FOR LIFE

Asst. Dist. Atty. Frank Briscoe said the state would have demanded death for the pair if their victim hadn't asked that their lives be spared.

Briscoe read her statement and Miller's confession.

This told how Eckenrod seized the spinster in front of a hotel as she walked to work last Dec. 26. She was dragged into a car driven by Miller.

The pair beat her almost unconscious, drove to a lonely lane, ripped off her clothing and repeatedly beat and as saulted her.

'DESERVE DEATH'

"We would ask death—they deserve death," Briscoe said before reading a letter from the spinster which said:

"I do not believe in capital punishment—I am opposed to the assessing of the death penalty in this case."

The state agreed not to ask death if the boys pleaded guilty and accepted the life sentences.

"How do you plead?" Dist. Judge Edmund Duggan asked.

"Guilty," said Miller, who worked for an electric firm.

"Guilty," said Eckenrod, who was a Texas A&M student.

The tiny victim bowed her head and wept outside the courtroom.

U.S. Proposal Gets Geneva Talks Rolling

GENEVA (UPI) — American willingness to accept a limited atomic test ban appeared today to have the Geneva nuclear talks off to a fresh start despite a mild Soviet rejection of the plan.

Soviet delegation leader Semyon Tsarapkin reacted with a "no," when the United States offered the proposal at yesterday's first post-Easter meeting of the conference. However, he promised to give the plan careful consideration.

STEP-BY-STEP

The proposal called for a step-by-step nuclear ban, beginning with an immediate bar on atmospheric explosions up to 30 miles above the earth's surface and under water. Additional bans would be worked out later by the U.S., British and Russian controls commission to be set up by the proposed treaty.

It represented a major shift in American nuclear policy, which previously had called for an unlimited atomic ban backed by a strong, tight nuclear controls system. The Soviets have been demanding an unlimited, all-time ban with fewer controls.

FEWER POSTS

Western sources said an initial limited ban would require far fewer than the 180 static control posts advocated by the experts for detection of all nuclear tests, and would eliminate the need for mobile test inspection teams that would rush to investigate the sites of suspected violations of the treaty.

The West hoped this would allay Soviet fears that the West wanted to use the nuclear ban treaty to set up an espionage system inside the Soviet Union.

ROCKEFELLER SCORES WITH LADIES AGAIN

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who won a lot of women voters with his smile last November, gave them something more to love him for yesterday.

He signed a bill premitting life insurance companies to lower rates for women, because of their greater life expectancy, by knocking three years off the age of every woman insured.

Reed Board To Meet

A special meeting of Reed Union School District trustees will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. in the Tiburon boulevard district offices to consider the three bids of the district's insurance program and award a contract, according to Erwin Farley, trustee chairman.

Bomb Thrown At Rubirosa

HAVANA (AP) — Dominican Republic Ambassador Porfiro Rubirosa said today he and his wife narrowly escaped injury when someone tossed a bomb on the terrace of his embassy Friday night.

Rubirosa, a playboy in the international set, said the bomb blew a hole in the wall of his bedroom. He and his wife were in another room watching television and were uninjured.

Relations between Cuba and the Dominican Republic have been strained since Fulgencio Batista was deposed as Cuba's president and took exile in the Dominican Republic capital of Cuidad Trujillo on Jan. 1.

Cuba has demanded that Batista be arrested preliminary to extradition proceedings, but the Dominican Republic has not heeded the request.

Nixon Proposes World Court Umpire East-West Disputes

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon proposes that the World Court be made the umpire in disputes arising from any future East-West agreements.

U. S. dedication to a strong military position reduces the chance of deliberate war, he said. But as long as force remains the final arbiter of international disputes there will always be the possibility of "war by miscalculation," he added.

Nixon spoke last night at the Academy of Political Science.

His proposal is not yet the official United States position, he said, but he has discussed it at length with Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers and officials of the State Department. He said he is convinced the proposal deserves serious consideration.

The World Court—the International Court of Justice—is the prinscipal judicial organ of the United Nations. It is composed of 15 judges elected by the General Assembly and the Security Council of the U.N.

The court, which sits at The Hague, Netherlands, cannot consider any case not voluntarily submitted to it by one or more nations, and has no power to enforce a decision.

Nixon proposed that nations signing future international agreements agree to be bound by the court's interpretation.

STUDENT BODY BENEFIT

Tam Play 'Blind Alley' Slated This Weekend

"Blind Alley" will be an all-school play presented Friday and Saturday by students of Tamalpais High School.

Blind Alley is the story of a gangster portrayed by senior, Tom Hanley, and his henchman—who invade a professor's home. The gangster is escaping from the authorities and the professor decides to analyze him. Two murders and a fist fight take place during the play and it ends with a suicide.

Playing opposite Tom Hanley is Junior Karen Ledin in the role of Mazie, the gangster's moll. The analyzing professor, Jerry Williams, will play opposite Liza Mibach, his wife in the play. Their 7-year-old son will be portrayed by Angie Margolis.

Other members of the cast are Dave Arrow, Tim Farrel, Sidney Peterson, Elizabeth Risley and Marc Hanchett.

The play, which will be produced in Ruby Scott Auditorium, will be directed by Peter Klain, head of Tam's Drama Department. Stage manager will be Senior Jody Johnston.

Proceeds from this weekend's play and last month's "Paint Your Wagon," will go to the student body fund.

Many former all-school play stars have gone on in drama. The most recent is Gail Irvine Rouget, class of '54, who is at present playing the juvenile lead in "Rope Dance," produced by the Interplayers.

San Rafael Sets Comedy For May Production

Under the direction of Dennis Dunn, San Rafael High dramatics class is now preparing for the spring play, "Playboy of the Western World," which will be presented in the school auditorium May 8 and 9.

The play presents the hilarious story of a timid young Irishman who murders his father and then flees to a neighboring town to escape the gallows.

Christy Mahon, the young man (John Spadoni) falls in love with Pegreen Mike (Donna Forest), much to the horror of Shawn Keagh (Tom Rehill), her fiance. The Widow Quim (Darlene Hadelman), also has her ideas about Christy Mahon. When Christy's supposedly dead father (Gary Penders) shows up, plenty happens.

Supporting the leads are Pat Patterson, Charlotte Gordon, Sue Steinmetz, Carrie Royal, Scott Deming, Mike Molone and Gary Sieback.

Sharon Peebles is assistant director.

Inga is the daughter of Mrs. Inga Lindholm, owner of Novato's Little Sweden Restaurant, and other Swedish restaurants in the Bay Area. She is active in many Novato High School student organizations, including the Scholarship Federation, Language Club, and student government.

Students Look Forward To Summers Abroad

Two Tam students are looking forward to spending the summer living abroad with families under the sponsorship of the Experiment in International Living and the American Field Service.

Thomas Mathews and Ian Schiller were selected on the basis of their scholastic aptitude, participation in school extracurricular activities, and the answers they gave to the questions that were asked them during their interviews.

The difference between the two scholarships are that the A. F. S. is offered only to juniors and includes either a summer or a school year program, while the Experiment is strictly for Seniors and college students and is just for the summer. However, they do have a common purpose, and that is to create an international understand of our country.

The A. F. S., which began in 1919, was one of the earliest established exchange programs. Its members served as ambulance drivers during the two World Wars. Beginning in 1946, it became a large-scale, teen-age exchange program.

While serving in World War I, Donald Watt founded the Experiment in International Living when he saw the misunderstanding that the Europeans had of the United States. When he returned to America he began the experiment with a mere eight people, and now it covers high schools in every state in the union.

200 Dine With Students

Last Saturday, Marin's high schools presented an international dinner in San Rafael High School cafeteria.

The program was based on the idea of world peace through understanding and knowledge of foreign peoples. Three students exchange programs, the American Field Service, Experiment in Living, and the Red Cross, participated.

After the dinner for 200 persons, foreign students attending Marin's high schools were introduced, and several of them gave talks.

American students who had traveled abroad under the auspices of these programs told of their experiences.

To round off the evening's entertainment, a group known as the "Whirlaways" gave a number of folk dances from Europe and South America.

Band Concert Slated at Tam

The first band concert to be held at Tamalpais High School since 1934 is scheduled April 24 at 8:15 p.m.

ConZerTanz, as the event by the Tamalpais High band will be called, is to be unique in that a band concert and a dance are combined in one evening's entertainment.

Feature of the evening will be a clarinet quintet, under the direction of Robert Greenwood, Tam band director, with Pete Hathaway, Tam junior, playing the unusual alto clarinet.

Also featured during the evening will be German folk songs sung by the Tam German Club with band accompanyment.

Larkspur Merger Group Hits Snags, Delays Final Report

The Larkspur Merger Study Committee last night ran into unexpected snags in the draft of a report to the city council and was forced to postpone final action on the document for at least one week.

Chief stumbling block was the word "guarantee," contained in a two-page list of suggested additions offered by committee member Lesly A. Daveler.

Under Daveler's wording, the committee would "guarantee," among other things, that consolidation of Larkspur and Corte Madera (1) "As a panacea, will not solve all problems," (2) will produce "inequality of tax benefit" and "minor problems for many residents," and (3) will create "a greater need for community participation in local government, together with a dedicated council."

Several of Daveler's colleagues argued that the committee was in no position to guarantee anything. They suggested that his phrases, if included at all, should be stated in the form of beliefs rather than guarantees.

The committee decided the question warranted further discussion, along with the wording of conclusions to be listed in the final report. Another meeting, possibly the committee's last, was set for next Monday at 8 p.m. in the city hall.

Other proposed additions submitted by Daveler won tentative approval at last night's session. One of these would ask the Larkspur City Council to have the city attorney "prepare petitions for our use in bringing this important matter (merger) to a vote."

Another would recommend that the name of a consolidated city be determined by Larkspur and Corte Madera voters at the election of a council to govern the proposed new city.

2 Airmen Deny Dope Possession

Two Hamilton Air Force Base men charged with possession of marijuana pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Judge Thomas F. Keating set a jury trial on May 26 and 27 for A1/C Rogelio Flores Castillo, 23, of 78th Fighter Wing, who was arrested March 5 in a San Rafael bar.

Trial dates of June 16 and 17 were set for Sgt. Raymundo Gutierrez Jr., 22, of the 43rd Communications Squadron, who was picked up at his apartment, 1333 Fourth street, San Rafael, the same night.

Gas Assn. Director

E. C. Brown of McPhail Fuel Co., San Rafael, has been named a director of the Western Liquid Gas Assn. He was named to the board at the organization's 10th national convention in San Francisco. Thomas J. McGurn, Fresno, was named president.

Waterfront Row May Erupt Again

Revival of Sausalito's arks and barges controversy appears likely at tonight's adjourned city council meeting, when a letter from the Sausalito Waterfront Preservation Assn., criticizing the city's announced intention, is scheduled to be considered.

The letter primarily complains about public statements of city Atty. John B. Ehlen.

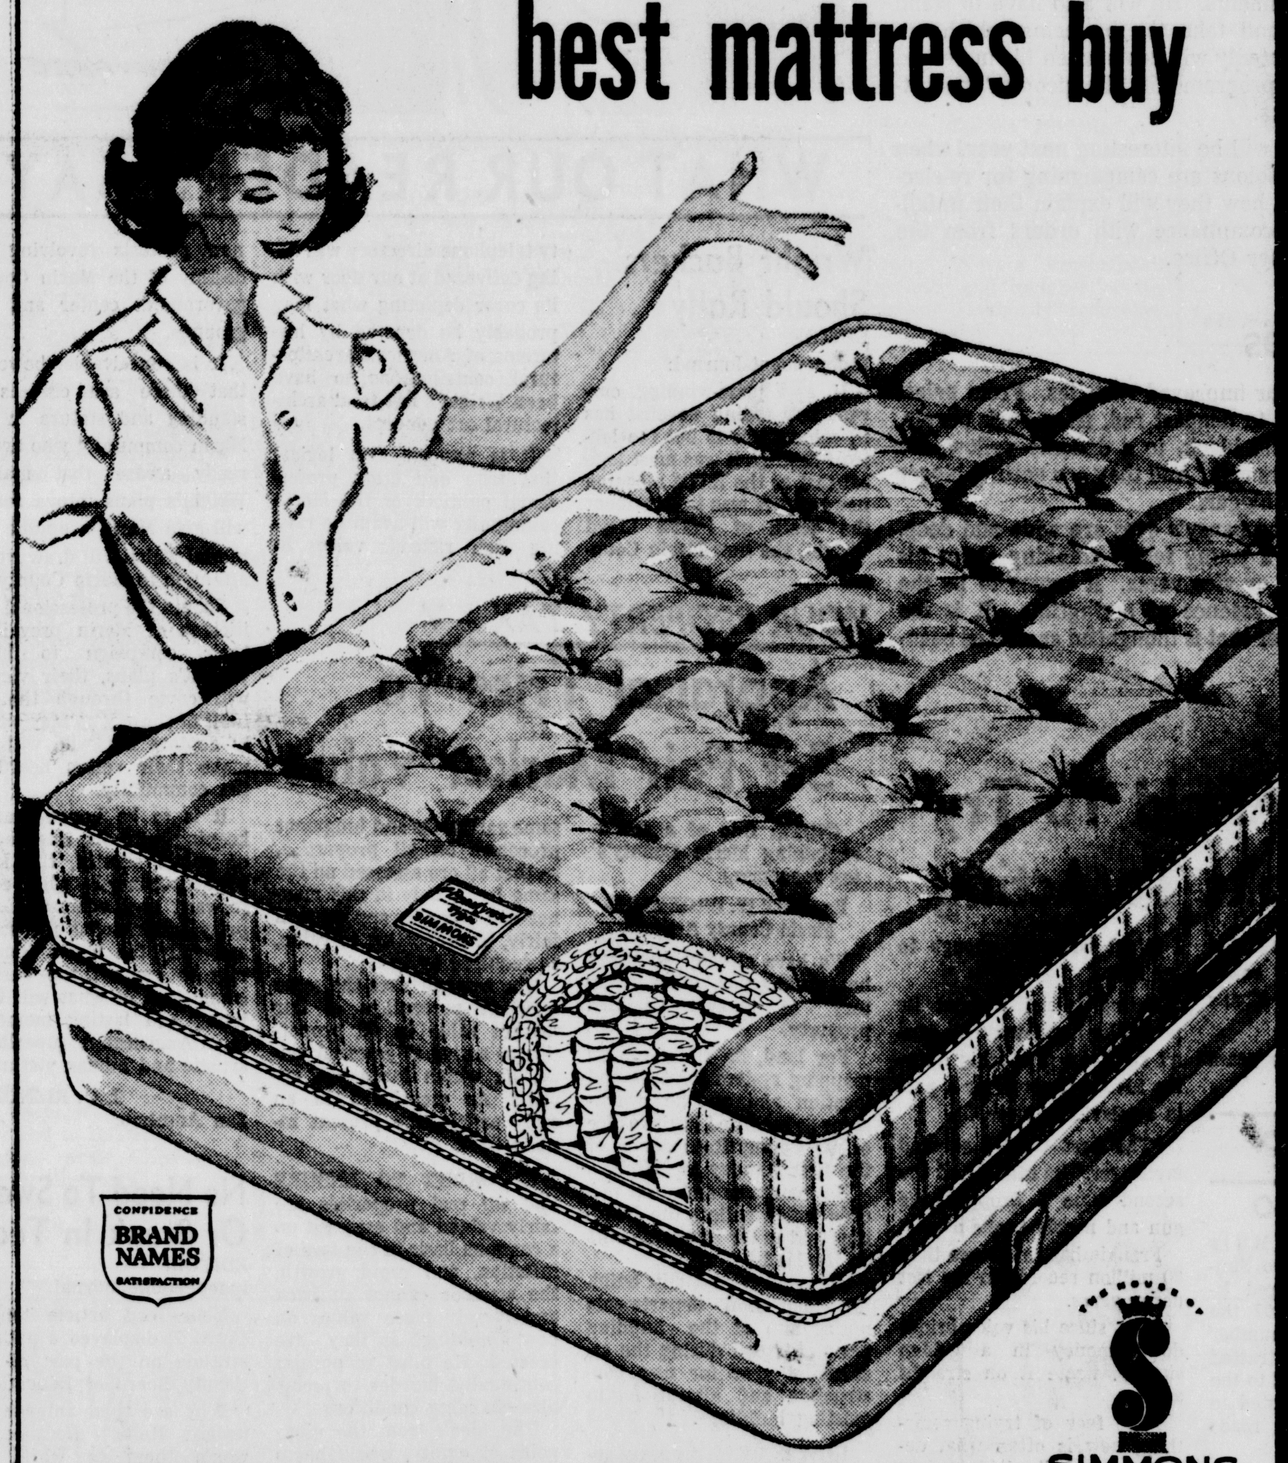

Other agenda items, held over from last week's meeting, include plans for private operation of parking facilities on city property and discussion of the proposed Golden Gate Authority.

FACT 5
ONLY BEAUTYREST GIVES SINGLE-BED COMFORT IN A DOUBLE BED BECAUSE ONLY BEAUTYREST HAS SEPARATE SPRINGS FOR EACH SLEEPER! Beautyrest's springs are separate and independent. Press down on one Beautyrest spring and others are not affected. No rolling together. The heaviest husband cannot disturb his wife's rest.

FACT 6
THE PRESIDENT OF SHERATON HOTELS SAYS: "With 49 of America's leading hotels, we pride ourselves on hospitality and comfort. Beautyrest is the only mattress we now buy". And Beautyrest is the only mattress that has passed the minimum performance standards of the American Hotel Association.

FACT 7
BEAUTYREST PROTECTS YOU, THE SHOPPER. As stated by Grant Simmons, Jr., President of Simmons Company: "Beautyrest is never offered with an artificial, inflated list price. Others do this continually. What Pat Says Goes In Legislature This Session

If there was any doubt that Gov. Edmund G. Brown had full control over this session of the state Legislature, that doubt should, by now, be fully dispelled. Last week's events proved that "what Pat says goes." This is the Brown session.

The governor took on the kingpin of the state Senate, Sen. Hugh Burns, Fresno Democrat and previously considered the strongest man in the Senate, and won.

Then he took on the speaker of the Assembly, namesake Ralph M. Brown, Modesto Democrat, and won.

Then he pushed through the lower house two major tax increases — on tobacco and income tax. This was even more unprecedented in that they were passed well ahead of the budget. Nobody knows yet how much money we're going to need next year, but the Assembly agreed we're going to have new taxes to meet it anyway.

Senator Burns' defeat was the shocker to Capitol observers. It was on the FEPC bill. Burns led a group which was attempting to eliminate the right of the commission to "snoop around" in business' business looking for violations. They maintained that the commission should be allowed to act only on a complaint.

But the strong man of the Senate looked like a weakling against the governor. When the voting was over, FEPC went sailing to the governor's desk for an assured signature and appointment of three Democrats and two Republicans (Brown decided on such a split) when the law becomes effective Sept. 19.

The battle of the Browns in the Assembly wasn't as dramatic. It was over minimum wages for farm labor. Assemblyman Brown was against it. Governor Brown for it. The wage decided upon is 90 cents per hour.

When this session adjourns about six weeks from now, the governor will be in an ideal position to claim any accomplishments. He will also have to stand up and take the battering which undoubtedly will come when his increased tax program hits the peoples' pocketbooks.

It will be interesting next year, when the solons are campaigning for re-election, how they will explain their unfailing compliance with orders from the Corner Office.

Pansies—Wise Little Faces

Pansies grow quite well almost any time of the year in Marin, but they seem to us to be at their best about now in middle spring. Their wise little faces deep in thought are a delight to young and old alike.

Shakespeare commented upon the thoughtful appearance of this blossom. The flower-loving bard would doubtless have been moved to even greater eloquence had he been able to behold some of our improved varieties. From palest blue to deepest red, from dark purple, almost black, to a delicate yellow, the colors run. And they are getting bigger and bigger.

The pansy's eyes are wide and deep, like a young fellow thinking about his girl, or vice versa. It seems to be the very essence of springtime. It is the flower that is thoughtful as well as beautiful.

Frankie Laine, Not Afraid To Try Something New, Looks To Acting

NEW YORK (AP) — Singer Frankie Laine, who quit show business five times before he became a star, has been smitten by the acting bug. So when'll he play Hamlet?

"Not right now," said the song belter. "I'm not ready for Shakespeare yet. That's a rough school.

"But in another five years I might be crazy enough to try it."

Acting is not without its perils, he has found. He wasn't so lucky practicing drawing his six shooter for a part in a television piece.

"The first time I skinned my finger," he said. "And the second time I dropped the gun and nearly broke a toe."

Frankie has sold more than 30 million records in the last dozen years.

Why, since his voice brings down money in a golden shower, waste it on straight acting?

"The fear of trying something new is often what defeats people," said Laine. "There is no standing still in this business. The day you aren't willing to take a step forward is the day you've already started going backward."

Frankie, the son of a Chicago barber, isn't frightened by the possibility of failure. It took him 16 years to reach the top as a singer. During that period he slept at times on park benches, work as an office boy, dancing teacher, shipping clerk, auto salesman and machinist.

"THE FIRST LESSON I had to learn was to be myself," he recalled. "I did what everybody else was doing. And I was a dud.

"In 1936 I decided I'd quit imitating others."

It took another decade before his big-voice style caught on. Five times he quit in disgust. Five times he came back and tried again.

"THE LAST TIME, I quit a $150 a-week factory job, because I couldn't see spending my life looking at the same four walls," he said. "I figured that it would take me 20 years to work up to an executive job."

Soon after taking a job in a Hollywood night spot, Frankie clicked with a recording. His first royalty check was for $36,000.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Rep. Hubert B. Scudder of the 1st Congressional District began a series of broadcasts over radio station KTIM, describing activities in the nation's capital.

The county planning commission said Abe Blumenfeld would have to annex the Motor Movies site to San Rafael if he wanted to have a mural on the back of the huge movie screen.

Maj. Joseph C. Thomas, retired infantry officer, replaced Albert E. Heston as mayor of Larkspur in annual reorganization of the city council.

20 YEARS AGO

Persons visiting Muir Woods on the first two Sundays of April numbered 5,996, compared with 907 the previous year. The number of cars was 1,744, contrasted to 270. Increased travel to the scenic spot was attributed to the lifting of tolls on roads leading there.

Samuel W. Gardiner, San Rafael attorney, was elected president of the Marin County Shrine Club at a meeting at Deer Park Villa in Fairfax. Others elected were Fred Cebalo, vice president, and Harry Lichtenstein, secretary-treasurer.

'THEY'RE GETTING ME CONFUSED NOW'

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Wright Backers Should Rally

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

If, as a prize-winning, current best-selling novelist has it, coincidence is but the logic of destiny, it was most logical that as the KTIM morning news report was telling about the death of Frank Lloyd Wright, the new Marin County telephone directory was being delivered at our door with its cover depicting what may probably be deemed by historians of American architectural contributions to have been Wright's last total architectural art concept.

It is perhaps also logical that trite and crass professional politicos of the Marin community will again be raising their raucous voices in new protests involving the destiny of the Marin County government center and fair grounds.

It is conceivable, however, that there are citizens of standing and stature in our Marin community who are already aware that making Wright's plans into a reality will give Marin a unique memorial which will draw world-attention to Marin County.

Should the professional politicians of Marin prevail in their campaign to block Wright's plans, their victory will come through the default of those who may silently deplore but who will not make their voices heard in the community.

It is to be hoped that in keeping with its fine record of public service, the Independent-Journal will come forward now against all the petty professional politicians and rally the Marin community to support the earliest completion of what will be a living and lasting memorial to an American of superlative artistic and human stature.

YOUR PROPERTY TAX – V

Appraisal Tries To Set Fair Market Value

(NOTE: One of a series explaining Marin County's tax processes.)

By BERT W. BROEMMEL
Marin County Assessor

We have already discussed how an assessor "takes inventory" of taxable personal property.

For land, he relies on his mapping system for area and location and on the ownerships as recorded in the office of the County Recorder as of the first Monday in March.

He maintains appraisal records which reflect the buildings and other improvements on the land.

The county and city building inspection departments notify him of the building permits issued during the assessment year for new construction and alterations to existing buildings.

HOW IS REAL property appraised?

Land is appraised at fair market value, the amount an informed buyer would pay a willing seller, allowing for a reasonable time on the market.

The fair market value for a particular piece of property may be more or less than the actual price paid. Where there is a building on the property, the appraiser determines the value of land and building as a unit. In arriving at this total property value, he takes into consideration the replacement cost of the building less depreciation, and the sales of similar type properties similarly located.

In appraising income property such as apartments, retail stores and factories, the income approach also is used as a guide to value. This involves arriving at a present day value of the property on the basis of the income it produces, or should produce if the property were put to its highest and best use.

In all instances the goal is to determine fair market value.

APPRAISING IS not an exact science. An assessor's appraisal is an opinion of value, objectively determined, on the basis of the facts at hand.

Since these values are used to apportion taxes, the level of value itself is not nearly as important as the use of the same yardsticks and judgment processes on all properties, so that all are assessed on the same basis; only in this manner can taxes be apportioned fairly, in proportion to value, as required by law.

The assessor uses the same ratio or percentage of fair market value on all properties to arrive at assessed value, on which taxes are applied. As mentioned in an early article, the present ratio is 23%.

IN ORDER TO ENSURE that all real properties are fairly valued and assessed on a common basis in the face of inflation, and rapid growth, the assessor cannot sit back and merely place values on new buildings as they are erected. He must reappraise continually, inorder to recognize changing conditions.

The ideal, from the viewpoint of equity, would be to reappraise the county every year. This is too costly, however, in relation to the benefits obtained.

THE LAST GRAND JURY recommended, and the Board of Supervisors adopted the policy whereby one fourth of the county would be reappraised each year. This is intended to provide adequate equity over the long range.

Should the development of the county and purchasing power of the dollar become more stable, this reappraisal process could be spread over a longer period.

No Need To Swear Or Break In Tears

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your lead article tonight (April 7) displayed a pathetic attitude on the part of our County Board of Education.

Why are then antagonistic toward Hollis? Because he wants them to work? To think?

Sure, Foster was a good guy, or he wouldn't be making more at Daly City. Harris was a good guy, too, but if all we have is $9,860, is it absolutely necessary to "swear or break into tears"?

Personally, I think these emotions are better reserved for times when our educational administration has no Hollis with the courage to recognize the absurdity of raising everything and cutting nothing.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By WILLIAM L. EARLE

Frank Lloyd Wright Stuck To Individual Sovereignty To The End

"In these many years of practicing architecture, I have come to regard the common man as the enemy of culture. That should be the other way around. But the common man is becoming more and more the prevailing American: more and more powerful because he is numerical and politics depends on numbers."

So declared the eminent Frank Lloyd Wright in one of his last published articles before his death last week in Arizona.

Generating controversy to the very end, the man chosen to design Marin's ambitious civic center project went on to assert that the uncommon man is "extremely unpopular" in America.

"IF AMERICAN democracy means anything at all, it means the sovereignty of the individual,'" Wright's article continued. "That is the dignity and the beauty of the faith we live under and live for . . ."

"Why," he asked, "should we always calculate, arrange and conduct ourselves by way of numbers? What democracy means is quality, not quantity. And when quantity lacks quality, don't talk about democracy. Quantities and quality are enemies. To me the stigma of Communism lies in the fact that the individual signs away his sovereignty as an individual to a government. I think that is man's degradation."

SAVING SOME of his heavy artillery for American universities, the elderly iconoclast had this to say:

"Look at them from the standpoint of architecture — a heterogeneous collection of inept antiquities, life gone out of them long ago. The young go there and form hallowed associations with unworthy things, unworthy atmospheres, and they come away with that association . . ."

What Americans have missed in their educational development, said Wright, is culture, and "I don't believe they can get it just by going to any university or to any educational institution."

It was appropriate that Wright's outspoken article should appear in The Progressive, founded 50 years ago by the late Wisconsin Sen. Robert M. La Follette Sr., who promised "a publication that will not mince words . . . when public utterances demand plain talk."

FORMER OLYMPIC champion Bob Mathias was an overnight guest last Tuesday at the Edgewater Inn in Corte Madera. Next morning, Roland Reading, the Edgewater's new manager, invited him to breakfast with him.

Mathias told Reading he was in Marin as a representative of the George A. Fuller Co. of Los Angeles, which is doing some construction work at Hamilton Air Force Base.

A RUNAWAY CAR, with three small children and no driver inside, slipped away from a hillside parking space in Corte Madera one afternoon last week and crashed into the fire station in the town hall.

Among other things, it broke a water pipe, causing a minor flood. Water seeped into the town council chambers under a sliding door separating the room from the firehouse.

That night, visitors at the council meeting were curious about several puddles on the floor. But they remained unenlightened until the town manager, Art Brandow, at the end of a routine report to the council, came up with this understatement:

"I might mention, too, that a car ran into the front of the building today. I won't burden you with the details. You can read about it tomorrow in the newspaper."

WALTER LIPPMANN

What To Do About A Political Situation Which No One Can Change

(NOTE: Walter Lippmann has just returned from Europe, where he has taken a first-hand look at the Berlin crisis.)

The question for us is how we should deal with a situation which neither we nor the Russians can change.

We cannot change the fact that there exist two German states and that West Berlin is a special problem.

The Soviet Union will not allow East Germany to be absorbed into the Western military and political community; if it did so, it would sacrifice the strategic control of Eastern Europe.

The Western allies will not allow West Germany to unite with East Germany in some sort of neutralized confederation. That would destroy the fundamental basis of NATO which now rests on the strategic position of Western Germany and the reinforcements which are coming from the West German army.

AN INTERNATIONAL agreement to reunite Germany is at present impossible unless either the Soviet Union or the Western allies abandon what they regard as their vital interests. Since neither side will abandon its vital interest, since neither can compel the other to abandon its vital interests, all of us must live with the fact that there are two Germanys and Berlin.

Speaking for myself, I do not like the situation. I belong to the minority who have long argued that German national feeling will not accept the partition of Germany, that some day and somehow the West Germans will come to terms with Eastern Germany and the Soviet Union in order to reunite their country.

THE CASE FOR a politically neutral Germany and for the disengagement of non-German troops has been inspired by an attempt to find an orderly settlement of the problem of German reunification—to avert a disorderly deal brought about by an explosion of frustrated national German patriotism.

But the attempt to negotiate a general settlement to reunify Germany has failed. That is the meaning of the present German crisis. Both sides are against an agreed reunification and they must now live with the consequences. These consequences include the grave risk that the German people will not accept the partition of their country.

The best we can expect from the coming negotiations is not a settlement but a modus vivendi.

THE BIG QUESTION, as I see it, is whether to recognize and regulate the situation that we cannot now change, or to accept the facts as they are, but to refuse to recognize them on the theory that some day and somehow the facts will change for the better.

There is Dr. Adenauer's view, which has the formal support of Gen. de Gaulle, that while there are in fact two Germanys, nothing must be said or done by the Allies which recognizes the existence of the other Germany.

AS AGAINST this there is the British view which is based on the practical and prosaic idea that since the East German state does in fact exist, we shall all have to live with it, and there is no point in pretending that the East German state does not exist.

Before we meet the Russians in the coming conferences, this country will have to make up its mind about where it stands in the argument between the Germans and the British. It is a hard choice to make. For though the issue is posed in a theoretical forum, there are grave substantial risks which may follow either choice.

(Tomorrow: What Dr. Adenauer thinks.)

The fleet, trim beauty of Oldsmobile's new "Linear Look" for 1959 is apparent in this Super 88 Holiday SceniCoupe, one of Olds' two entirely new body styles in the Holiday series this year. It is also one of Olds' reasons for saying, "Live Better By Far With A Brand New Car"—theme of the current auto industry promotion campaign, symbolized by the insigne in upper right. Marine Patrol Makes Mock Sea Rescue

Seven boats took part in a mock sea rescue as the newly organized Marin Sheriff's Marine Patrol held its first maneuvers from Sausalito Sunday.

Sgt. Guy V. Gibbs and Inspector Bowen Bridges, the sheriff's representatives on the marine patrol, said the maneuver involved a "stranded boat" somewhere in the bay. Within one hour after the seven boats spread out on the search, Al Kelly of Fairfax, piloting Alrose II, found the "stranded" craft among rocks on the other side of Angel Island.

Officers of the sheriff's marine patrol are:

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos, commodore; Scott Watterman of Kentfield, captain; Sergeant Gibbs, commander; G. E. Schmidt of San Rafael, yeoman; Joe Nerviani of Santa Venetia, purser; Aldo Barsotti of San Rafael, master at arms.

Girl Rider Injured In Fall From Horse

Michaelle Smith, 17, of 2 Broadwalk avenue, Larkspur was kept overnight at Marin General Hospital after being thrown from a tripped horse Sunday and then stepped on by the tumbling beast.

Michaelle was thrown when her mount stepped in a hole during a riding party on Marin Municipal Water District property near Lagunitas Lake. She suffered a badly bruised left hip and head injury, hospital attendants said.

The girl was riding in company with nine other persons, all riding students of the Meadow Club Stables. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne W. Smith.

Marin To Take Part In CD Radio Exercise

Marin County will participate in a nationwide 30-minute Conelrad drill Friday. West Coast time for the drill, to be held as a part of "Operation Alert for 1959," will be 8:30 to 9 a.m.

Donald A. Jensen, county administrator and coordinator of civil defense, said radio station KTIM will go off the air during the half-hour period.

Jensen said Mansfield Lewis, county director of communications, has worked out with him a practice basis to determine reception of Conelrad throughout the county.

WILL REPORT

Each civil defense coordinator will report to Jensen's office on reception and the notice obtained on the alert.

Isolated spots such as Pt. Reyes, Muir Beach and Bolinas will be checked through civil defense coordinators and report in by mail, Jensen said. Their reports will be turned into state and federal civil defense offices.

Jensen said the program will test the speed with which radio stations in the San Francisco area can convert to 640 and 1240 Conelrad channels.

He said there was some difduring the last alert, and that it is hoped this will be corrected this time.

TO STAY ON AIR

Although KTIM will be silent, Jensen said, the station in Santa Rosa will remain on the air. Marin supposedly will be covered by San Francisco stations.

Friday's test will open with a five-minute program from the California Disaster Office, Region 2, to be followed by a 20-minute program of national origin. The test will close with another five-minute program from the Region 2 office.

According to the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, the objectives of the drill are to improve operational readiness and procedures for getting emergency messages on the air, to determine whether Conelrad messages are adequately received by the public, and discover the limits and quality of reception in each area where Conelrad operates.

The Seminole Indians in Florida have always refused any assistance the government offered them.

TERRA LINDA CHINOISERIE

Bill Sievers, soloist for the third act pantomime of "Chimera Obscura," the Terra Linda Little Theater production set for April 24 and 25, poses with two dancers. They appear in the Chinese fantasy "Great Horn." Evelyn Friend, left, will do a fan dance and Norma Martus will perform a lantern dance. Performances both evenings are to begin at 8:30 o'clock at San Rafael High School auditorium.

Integration Topic For Novato Forum

"Will Housing Integration End Racial Discrimination?" is the subject of the Novato Forum's next public discussion, scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday in the Novato Community Clubhouse at 906 Machin avenue.

Panelists will be Franklin Williams, secretary and counsel for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People; Jack Danielson, Marin County Schools' guidance consultant; E. Morton Shaffran, former assistant executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority - Redevelopment Agency, and Rev. Howard Swartz, Novato Presbyterian minister and member of the housing authority - redevelopment agency.

Deputies Forbid Boys' Camp-Out

Two Tiburon boys, both 14, who wanted to camp out in the hills above Paradise drive Saturday night, were ordered home by sheriff's deputies.

The father of one of the boys told the officers he sees nothing wrong in having the boys camp out. But the deputies explained the camp-out is inadvisable because of the series of burglaries and prowlers reported in the area during the past few weeks.

Deputies James Baird and A. V. Menjou noticed the youths walking in the hills with flashlight about 8:30 p. m. They were warned of the curfew violation and sent home.

Hospital Maternity Ward Overflows

The maternity section at Marin General Hospital literally overflowed with new mothers over the weekend.

Hospital officials said the section, with normal capacity of 28, had 37 new mothers Saturday. Six of them occupied beds in the hall.

Sunday the total was 35, including five in the hall. Yesterday it was down to 31, with none in the hall.

Christopher Tabs Giants As Champs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Manager Bill Rigney, a personable and talented baseball man, found himself squarely on the spot today as his San Francisco Giants opened their home season.

Mayor George Christopher and a substantial following of the baseball population tab the club not only the National League pennant winner but also the world champion.

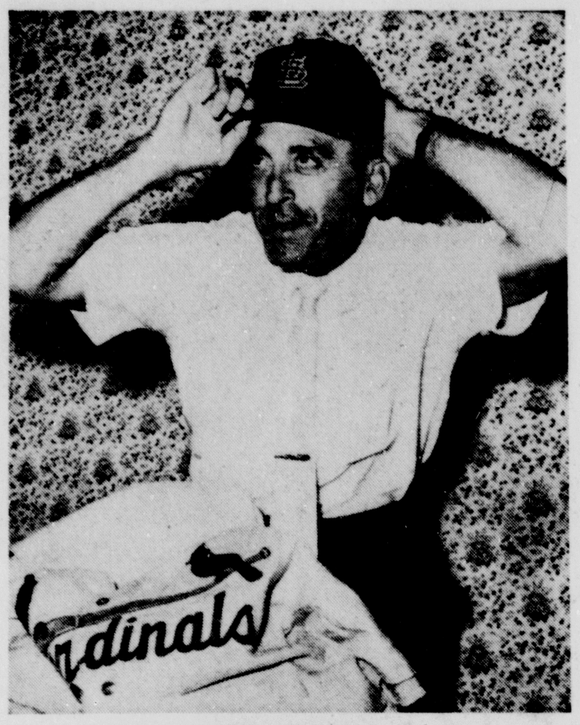

Mayor Christopher, after yesterday's parade through the downtown sector with its confetti welcome for the Giants, declared:

"The eyes of the baseball world are on San Francisco. We are the team to beat and they're not going to beat us because we're too good."

To which Rigney replied, "All those ideas are good ones. We promise you this—we'll not lack for playing. We'll give you everything we've got."

Giants' President Horace Stoneham, who missed the parade, also has declared the club stands a good chance of winning. This more than the mayor's statement probably made a solid impression on the manager.

Police Chief Tom Cahill estimated at least 50,000 spectators watched the parade that started at the Ferry Building and proceeded through downtown streets to city hall.

BARBER BOWS OUT — Sal (The Barber) Maglie takes time out from packing in St. Louis to try on the new hat and uniform he received after reluctantly bowing out of the major leagues by signing a contract with Cardinals to instruct their minor league pitchers. (AP Wirephoto)

Sal Maglie Off To Minors To Teach Pitching

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Time caught up with Sal Maglie yesterday.

The 42-year-old righthander, who stilled enemy bats with a snapping variety of curve balls, took a job with the St. Louis Cardinals as a pitching instructor for their minor league clubs. The Cards recently had asked waivers on Maglie in order to hand him his unconditional release.

But the front office brass figures Sal is a treasure trove of pitching knowledge—invaluable to fledgling hurlers.

Maglie's first chore was to travel by train — he doesn't trust airplanes — to Albany, Ga., where the Cards have their minor league headquarters. From there Maglie will wander about in nomad fashion, helping out wherever he's needed.

As he packed in his hotel room, Sal seemed in good spirits. He said his new job was "the best thing for me."

The words came with the same determination that Sal showed on the mound in nine seasons in the American and National leagues with the Giants, Dodgers, Cleveland and New York Yankees.

In those years he notched 119 victories while losing only 62, a percentage of .657.

Maglie, dubbed "The Barber" for habitually shaving dug-in batters with pitches, broke into the big leagues in 1945 with the Giants.

Liechtenstein, a tiny kingdom of 65 square miles, was once a dependency of Austria. In 1918 it declared its independence.

Machen-Vargas Bout In S.F. Postponed Until May 20

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The 10-round Cow Palace bout between Eddie Machen and Ruben Vargas has been postponed from April 29 to May 20 as the result of an injury suffered by Machen.

Machen, of Redding (Shasta County), has been having trouble with scar tissue on his right hand. During his training session at Portland, Ore., the hand became badly swollen.

Promoter Bennie Ford said Machen's manager, Sid Flaherty, ordered the heavyweight to lay off workouts for 10 to 12 days.

Ralph Gambina, co-manager of Vargas, said the Richmond fighter would slow down his training schedule, but would remain in training camp at Calistoga.

NO RETREAT PLANNED

Stanford To Continue In Sports Picture

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Stanford University firmly intends to continue top level competition in football and other sports after the dissension-ripped Pacific Coast Conference dies July 1.

A series of announcements was fired off yesterday to dispel as mistaken any idea that Stanford planned a retreat from big time collegiate sports.

Charles A. Taylor, assistant athletic director, declared such talk "has been irritating the hell out of us."

The announcements were:

Stanford's football team will play 1965 games with both Army and Navy in its home stadium at Palo Alto. The Army date is Nov. 13 and Navy's Nov. 25.

A $125,000 rebuilding of the Stanford Stadium's press box to modern standards of efficiency and comfort will be completed for the 1959 football season.

An alumni squad spangled with pro league stars and coached by Frank Albert and Clark Shaughnessy will play head Coach Jack Curtice's 1959 varsity squad May 16 in a climax to spring football practice.

Shaughnessy coached and Albert quarterbacked the 1940 Stanford team that reintroduced the T formation to college football.

The alumni-varsity football show, highlighting the Stanford campus conference of alumni, is projected as an annual event for the traditional spring reunioning of old grads.

"Stanford will continue to carry on a very vigorous athletic program and we will do all we can to excell," Taylor told a news conference luncheon.

The idea that Stanford did not intend to carry on its traditional athletic competition arose because Stanford has not joined the new Athletic Assn. of Western Universities "at this time," said Taylor.

Taylor gave no indication on when Stanford's decision on joining the new league may be made, but he pointed out that the four AAWU schools are getting priority attention in Stanford's future scheduling.

Lots Of Room In Squaw Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Accommodations for 30,000 spectators still are available within a radius of 50 miles of Squaw Valley, Robert McMahon, housing director for the 1960 Olympic Winter Games, announced today.

McMahon made the statement after Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, reported in New York that most facilities for the 1960 games had been "highly praised" by international sports federations.

McMahon also pointed out that there was a general agreement among hotel men not to boost their prices.

S.F. Sells Giel To Pittsburgh

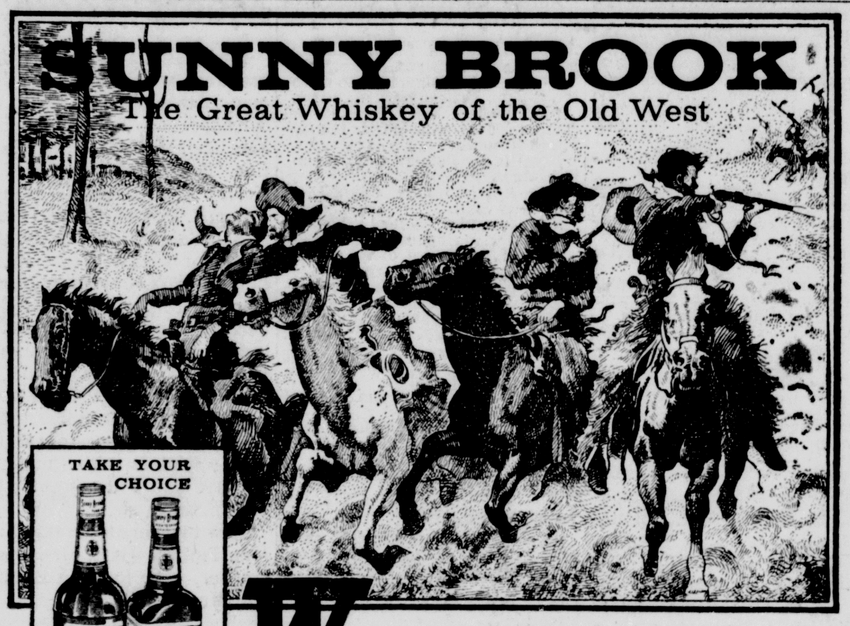

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants sold pitcher Paul Giel yesterday to the Pittsburgh Pirates for $20,000.

The Giants obtained Giel, one-time All-America halfback with the University of Minnesota, for a reported $60,000 bonus in 1954.

In 29 games last season he posted a 4-5 mark.

Delegation Sought For Hearing On Abalone Bill

Mr. Sportsmen—we need your help.

On Tuesday, April 21 a hearing of the abalone bill AB No. 826 will be held in Sacramento at 3:45 p.m. in state capitol room No. 5168.

We need a delegation to attend. Contact Paul Jones, Gordon Dixon or Andy Pedroli and we will make arrangements. Groups will attend from Sonoma and Mendocino counties also.

Wire or write Senator Jack McCarthy and Assemblyman Richard McCollister asking them to help defeat AB 826. Be sure and take care of this assignment now. Ask your friends to do the same.

If we loose this battle the entire District No. 10, Marin, Sonoma and Mendocino coasts will be open to commercial abalone diving.

This will deplete the abalone forever and will ruin the sport fishing along our coast.

With abalone at $2.00 a pound it is no wonder that the commercial fish companies are bending every effort to open up this coastal area.

OPENING MAY 2

Fishing At MMWD Lakes Will Be Good

Trout fishing will be good in the Marin Municipal Water lakes at the May 2 opening. Good plants of catchable fish have been planted and there will be more to come before the season starts.

Catchable trout have been planted in Phoenix lake, which is very low at the present time, but is rising daily..

Lagunitas and Bon Tempe lakes should be exceptionally good.

The department of fish and game anticipate good catches of eastern brook trout at Kent lake.

All Marin streams are in poor shape. Water flow at the present time is equivalent to the months of June and July.

This year the season fishing permit at the lakes will cost $3.00. All the money derived is used for patrol and sanitary installations. Many sportsmen have complained about the raise in fee but it is much less than in other reservoirs.

The Public Health Department has imposed a number of restrictions on the operation of the lakes—and many of these can be cured by public education.

Only Phoenix Lake will have no restrictions.

Bon Tempe—Upper channel restriction, no fishing off dam or along a section 300 feet long on the north shore.

Alpine—No fishing off dam and along the shoreline from the boat landing to the dam, and from the dam to the entrance of Cataract Gulch.

Lagunitas — Restricted 500 feet from the Air Force pumping installation to the dam.

Kent—Restricted along one-third of easterly portion of dam, and along the east shore to a point 100 feet beyond the intake.

Permits for lake fishing may be purchased at the Water District office or sports shops throughout the county. Children up to the age of 17 may obtain permits free from the district.

On opening weekend arrangements have been made with the Army to allow civilian fishing in Rodeo Lagnoon at Fort Cronkite, near Sausalito. You can secure your permit for the first weekend at the gate. After that you can obtain a season pass to fish the lagoon at the Presidio headquarters in San Francisco .

At the present time no state fishing regulation law pamphlets are available. However we are assured that they will be forthcoming in the near future.

Last fall 64,000 spring salmon were planted in Paper Mill Creek. The fish are 6 to 9 inches in length and it is hoped that a rain is forthcoming in order to help the fish reach the ocean. Usually they migrate during the months of March and April.

Bass Fishing Very Good At Present

Striped bass fishing is exceptionally good at the present and fishermen have enjoyed a good run of fish throughout the fall, winter and spring months. More fish have been taken during the past year, than in recent years.

Fish are everywhere—from Red Rock, San Quentin, Marin Islands, China Camp and Hamilton Field flats. Fish are being taken mostly on bait.

At the Marin Islands and the San Rafael bridge trolling has been good.

A great number of tagged bass have been caught in the San Pablo Bay area. If you catch a tagged striper be sure to send all the particulars in with the tag to the Department of Fish and Game.

Many limits have been taken on the flats and in deep water at the White Buoy.

Fishing has been good at the Marin Rod and Gun Club pier,

Sheep Industry Threatened By Coyotes

According to Mendocino and Lake County delegates attending the April 12 meeting of the Sportsmen's Council of the Redwood Empire, coyotes have increased in number to a point where they are threatening the sheep industry.

Delegates Jack Mitchell from Potter Valley reported that he knew personally of one rancher who was going from sheep raising into cattle raising because of heavy losses. It was the opinion of the delegates from the two counties that many young deer are killed each year by coyotes.

Council President Ray Welsh appointed a committee to investigate the cost and effectiveness of the present predator program in Mendocino and Lake Counties and to come up with a recommendation at the next regular council meeting.

Sportsmen To War On Abalone Bill

Delegates from sportsmen's clubs in Marin, Sonoma, Mendocino and Lake Counties met at Ukiah April 12 and agreed to go all out against AB 826, which if passed, will permit commercial fishermen to take abalones off the North Coast. (Marin, Sonoma and Mendocino Counties).

The hearing on this bill is set for April 21st before the Assembly Fish and Game Committee at 3:45 p.m. in Room 5168, State Capitol Building.

Each delegate attending the Council Meeting was instructed to have as many sportsmen from his county as possible attend the hearing. Sportsmen who plan to attend will meet at 1 p.m. near the elevator on the fourth floor of the Eastern Annex of the State Capitol Building. Each county was instructed by Council President Ray Welch, to select a representative to talk before the committee.

The Council also agreed to do everything possible to see that the Meyers Pollution Bill AB 1974 is passed. This bill puts teeth into our present pollution laws, which are, at the present time inadequate. Millions of game fish are destroyed each year in our bays and rivers because of polluted waters.

The Ukiah Rod and Gun Club proposed that the Sportsmen's Council of the Redwood Empire withdraw from the California Wildlife Federation and affiliate with the North Coast Council, the Northeastern Council, the Sacramento Sierra Sportsmen Council, the Superior California Wildlife Federation and the Northern Counties Conservative Association.

The Ukiah club feels that these Northern state sports groups have common problems which if presented by the group as a whole, will receive more favorable attention

Second In Conservation Series Set For April 23 In Clubhouse

The second of a series of monthly conservation meetings sponsored by the Marin Rod and Gun Club will be held in the clubhouse starting at 8:00 p.m. on Thursday, April 25. The principal subject to be discussed at this meeting will be the proposed Point Reyes Recreational Area.

The first meeting of this series was held on March 26 and considered "The Development of an Effective Conservation Program at the Local Level." Dr. Gail D. Adams, president of the club, reported a fine attendance at this meeting with nearly all present participating in the discussion. Because of the general nature of the program subject, the topics discussed ranged widely. At the end it seemed that efforts should be considered mainly as discussion or action. No specific field projects (action effort) are to be started at this time. It was felt, however, that the present series of meetings would serve a very useful purpose by exposing and examining problems or situations relating to conservation. It might be that recommendations to the County would be appropriate from time to time. It was also noted that we should join forces with other conservation groups when matters of mutual concern are being examined.

In contrast with the very general nature of the first program, a specific topic was chosen as noted above. A group of speakers have been invited to present their point of view on the proposed Point Reyes development. An attempt has been made to have all viewpoints represented.

The speakers will be: Capt. A. T. Oko, Joseph H. Mendoza, James E. Cole, Paul Wilson, and James Hammond. Capt. Oko and Joe Mendoza are Inverness residents. Mr. Cole is chief, Branch of National Park System Planning. Dr. Wilson is a director of the Marin Conservation League. Mr. Hammond is with the California State Chamber of Commerce.

The first consideration will be to have stated the specific nature of the proposed development. Each speaker will then present his views on the proposal. There will likely be a question and answer period.

Fishing For Salmon Good Outside Gate

Salmon fishing is good outside the Golden Gate. Limits of fish are being taken three miles southwest of the Lightship.

The fish previously were at the Farralone Islands but have moved closer in.

The new sportsman regulation requiring the marking of salmon will come to an end on the 15th of April when the commercial season starts.

Salmon fishing at Bodego and Tomales bays has not started this season.

Now is the time to plan that salmon fishing trip. Visit your sports shop and they'll make all the necessary arrangements.

Salmon fishing has been good and should get better during the summer months.

Club To Meet Friday Evening

The regular monthly meeting of the Marin Rod and Gun Club will be held on Friday, April 17 at 8 p.m. at the clubhouse at Point San Quentin.

According to President Dr. Gail Adams, Ellis Berry of the Department of Patrol, will be the speaker of the evening. Warden Al Giddings will also be present.

As an added attraction, an Alaska fishing picture entitled "Fish On" will be shown.

Every member is urged to attend this meeting—come and bring your sportsman friends.

Refreshments will be served during the evening.

Supervisors Hit Abalone Measure

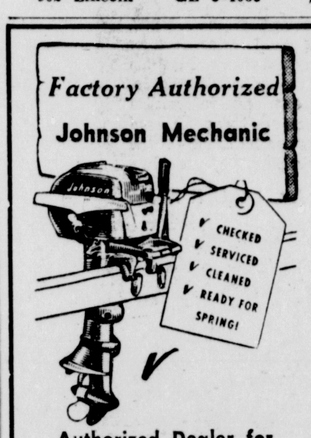

On Tuesday, April 7, the Marin County Board of Supervisors by unanimous vote went on record by resolution opposing Assembly Bill 826 which if passed will permit the commercial taking of abalones off the North Coast.

The supervisors, in their resolution specifically recognized the economic and recreational value of this abalone resource to the North Coast Counties. Thousands of California sportsmen visit the coastal area each year to pick abalones.

Mendocino County Supervisors are attending the April 21st meeting of the Assembly Fish and Game Committee in Sacramento en mass to personally oppose the abalone bill.

ANYONE FOR TENNIS? — This $150,000 private tennis club with swimming pool, similar to the Mill Valley Tennis Club, may be installed in San Rafael by the end of this year. Rezoning of four and one-half acres to permit construction of the club will come up before the San Rafael Planning Commission tonight. The architect's sketch shows five tennis courts with a pool.

NEIGHBORS IN FAVOR

Rezoning Sought For Private Tennis Club

Request for a private tennis club at Puerto Suello Hill in north San Rafael will come before the San Rafael Planning Commission's meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the city hall.

John Farrar of Kaehler Construction Co. and several partners plan to build the club on four and one-half acres of open land on Glen Park avenue at Myrtle avenue, on the east side of Highway 101.

'UN-ZONED'

Farrar is asking that the land, now zoned for single family residential, be rezoned to "unclassified" to permit a tennis club. He has a petition from almost all neighboring property owners approving the project, which is expected to cost $150,000 to $175,000.

Farrar said other partners will include Mill Valley tennis pro Hal Wagner and Michael Scotto.

If everything goes as scheduled, Farrar hopes to start construction in 60 to 90 days. The project will take four to six months to complete, he estimated. It will be a privately owned club, with memberships selling at about $350 each.

ILLEGAL MEET

The planners will also take up the contested variance for Custom Builders' new apartment building at 620 Canal street. On March 30, the planning commission granted a 12-foot setback instead of the normal 15-foot at a "quickie" meeting called without advance notice. This meeting was ruled illegal. L. E. Weisenburg of San Rafael Newport Co. has questioned the legality of the setback variance and a height variance granted last December.

Four other variances for rear setbacks and carport additions are also requested.

OTHER BUSINESS

Other items on tonight's planning commission agenda include:

Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. wants permission for a parking lot at 1141 Mission street, about a block away from its new building at Fifth avenue and B street. An old house is on the lot.

Northwestern Pacific Railroad wants to subdivide its land on both sides of DuBois street extension between Irwin street and Woodland avenue and the railroad tracks.

Marshall Smith asks for a six-home subdivision on Irwin street next to Bret Harte Meadows. Across the street, Henry Ghilotti wants rezoning for apartments.

John Bennett wants to put in a four-home subdivision on Greenwood avenue at Madrona street.

Montecito Properties is asking for architectural supervision for another building at the Montecito Center.

Final map for 13 more homes in Loch Lomond is ready for approval. The new homes, unit 5, are along Locksley lane extension to Lochinvar.

Charles Heiman wants to put in apartments on Valencia street near Belle avenue.

A sign 16 feet square is requested for the Odd Fellows building at 1522 Fifth Avenue.

The Japanese government is paying for the price of increased milk to school children to get rid of surplus milk production.

Yiddish Club Meeting

The Yiddish Culture Club of the Marin Jewish Community Center will meet at 8 p.m. Saturday for a program of Yiddish music and literature. The group meets regularly the third Saturday of each month at the center, Fifth and Forbes avenues, San Rafael.

Paradise Drive To Be Open All Way Again

For the first time in more than two years, Marin motorists tomorrow night will be able to travel the full length of Paradise drive between Corte Madera and Tiburon.

A 500-foot section blocked by a slide since the autumn of 1956 will be opened to traffic late tomorrow, Marvin W. Brigham, county public works director, announced today.

Brigham could not predict the exact hour, saying only that he expects the road to be opened "by evening."

The slide-damaged stretch, which runs past the former Tiburon Naval Net Depot, has been filled, graded and given a rough rock surface by county road crews during the past week.

The only remaining work, Brigham said, is to put an oil coat on the section.

Brigham warned motorists that the road dips where it has been rebuilt. He said the section won't be given a permanent surface for months, perhaps a year. Meanwhile, performance of the new roadbed will be studied by public works department engineers.

Construction of an elaborate drainage "gallery" to permit rebuilding of the damaged portion of Paradise drive was completed last week by P and Z Co. of South San Francisco., The drainage work cost the county $60,622.

Novato Father Given Probation

A 23-year-old Novato father yesterday was placed on three years probation for the statutory rape last November of a 17-year-old San Anselmo girl.

Marin Superior Court Judge Thomas F. Keating specified that the first 90 days of probation served by Floyd William Atterburn of 1305 Denlyn avenue, Novato, be spent at the county jail under the work-furlough program.

Atterburn, who has three children, was employed as a Bay Bridge toll collector at the time of his arrest.

Koalas Prove Show Stopper At S.F. Zoo

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Six fuzzy, teddybear-like koalas from Australia are packing in the biggest crowds ever seen in Fleishhacker Zoo.

The cuddlesome little marsupials are living it up on eucalyptus leaves and spend most of their time sleeping in the crotches of a tree set up in the former pen of a hippopotamus.

They went on display for the first time Sunday. All day unprecedented throngs of children and adults jammed up to the railing to watch them wake up briefly, scratch, nibble at a few leaves, and then drop off to sleep again.

They arrived Saturday by air from Australia under escort of zoo director Carey Baldwin and Sir Edward Hallstrom Sydney millionaire who donated the koalas. Three are destined for the San Diego Zoo.

Big Postal Rate Hike Staved Off

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House post office subcommittee has approved a bill to stave off a scheduled 100 per cent increase in postage on mail of odd sizes or shapes.

The minimum rate on these mailings now is slated to climb from three cents to six cents May 1. The bill would revise the rate to three and a half cents.

The subcommittee heard complaints that a 100 per cent increase would work a hardship on mailers of such items as boxes of church envelopes and seed and nursery catalogs.

It's here and only Standard has it—an entirely new grade of gasoline so far ahead in octane and other qualities...it's unequalled!

CUSTOM SUPREME

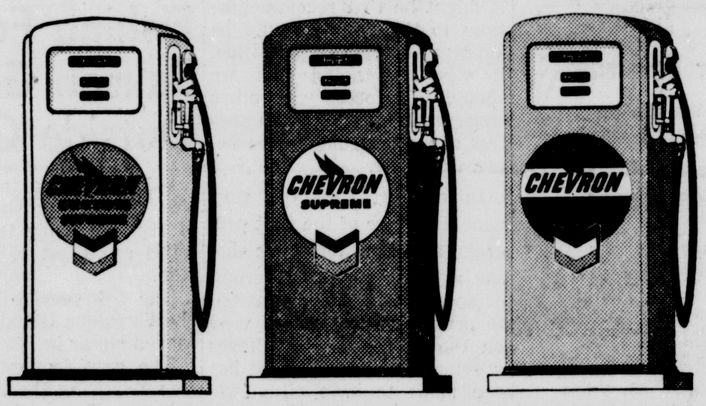

The West's first gasoline custom-refined for the world's most powerful cars

Now there are three great Chevrons to cover the octane needs of all cars far more exactly than two grades possibly can. Everyone gets a better buy because every motorist can get all the power and performance his car can deliver—without paying for higher octane gasoline than it really needs!

For years, just two grades—"regular" and "premium"—have satisfied most car engines. But times have changed. The power demands of today's highest-compression cars have created a new problem:

If premium grade gasolines are continually increased in octane just for these powerful cars, millions of premium-users (whose cars do not require extra octane) will be paying for "the other fellow's" power needs.

That's why we created an entirely new grade for the most powerful cars on the road. Now—whatever car you drive—there's a clean-burning gasoline that exactly fits your power needs (and your pocketbook!) You'll find it only at the sign of the Chevron.

exclusive Chevron Custom Supreme . . . a new grade of gasoline for the highest-compression cars that need a clean burning gasoline far more powerful than any available until now. Unequalled performance—unequalled value!

powerful Chevron Supreme . . . the West's biggest-selling premium for late-model cars that do not need extra-high octane. Motorists get full performance in a clean burning gasoline without having to buy octanes they do not need.

economy Chevron . . . a new, more powerful money-saver for the owners of all cars that run on "regular" grade gasoline. Clean burning Chevron gasoline delivers new high octane—and better performance—at the regular price.

FOCUS SHOW WILL HONOR AUXILIARY

April is the perfect month to "Change Your Outlook"!

Fashion Focus will do a fashion-about-face next Tuesday at Rickey's when it reverses the old fashion concepts and says "half sizes fashions can be becoming, shorts can be flattering, and swim suits slightly sensational."

The old order changeth and gives way to compatible color, high frequency yellows, pinks, blue, lavenders with stereo silhouettes that sing "zing" from any angle. Sea leg fashions see the best of all legs and stop at becoming vantage points. Play clothes step out in sharkskin, hopsacking and miraclease arnel. Pool clothes play up the good points and make light of the less desirable!

Changing your fashion outlook in flattering, feminine outfits skillfully accessorized by the R and M Style Shops will be eight attractive models, members of the enthusiastic Catholic Youth Organization Auxiliary whose work with the veteran CYO is changing the outlook of many youngsters and teenagers who look forward to summer camp, current big project of the CYO Auxiliary.

The new face of springhair fashion will be interpreted by Raymond's French Salon of Beaute in San Rafael proving that a becomingly different style can give you a newsy new outlook. Beauty Counselors Gai Fleming and Frances Gaines will upset some old wive's tales about makeup and prove it's the spring to be beautiful.

To "Change Your Outlook", and honor the CYO Auxiliary, make your reservations by calling Rickey's.

Legislature Moves Closer And Closer To Party Control

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The California Legislature, traditionally nonpartisan, is moving closer and closer to party control.

The trend stands out boldly as perhaps the most significant development of the 1959 session.

It may only be a phase. But no legislature in recent years has shown the same partisan tendency.

Why, even repeal of the death penalty has become something of a party issue.

The new look just seemed to come naturally after California voters awarded most state offices and control of the Legislature to the Democrats last fall.

Democrats took over the Assembly, 47-33, and the Senate, 26-13, with one vacancy.

Nonpartisanship was the political vogue during the era when most legislators, cross-filing, captured both nominations in the primary. The practice served to deemphasize party control.

The magic of cross-filing has waned in elections since 1954. In that year, for the first time, the ballot began to identify candidates by party affiliation. The new law has guided preponderant Democrats to vote the party ticket.

As yet, the partisan emphasis has been more apparent in the Assembly. While there are signs of party organization in the Senate, it's too early to tell whether majority Democrats will maintain a solid front on the issues that count.

Senate Majority Leader Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno) has differed openly with Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown on several occasions, notably on the administration's Fair Employment Practices bill.

Brown has gone out of his way to be friendly with members of both parties. Nevertheless, he has not hesitated to crack the whip when he felt it was necessary.

The Holmes incident dramatized the change in political climate at the Capitol.

Assemblyman James L. Holmes (R-Santa Barbara), on the floor of the Assembly, opposed Brown's request to set aside tideland oil revenue for the state water program. Holmes advocated using the reserves to avoid new taxes asked by the Democratic governor.

Democrats on a Ways and Means subcommittee retaliated swiftly. They deleted right-of-way funds for the Santa Maria aqueduct in Holmes' district.

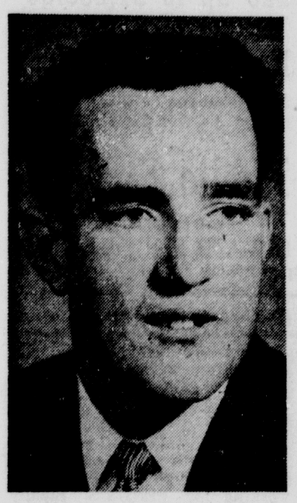

Brown said he had nothing to do with it, but he supported the subcommittee action. He let Holmes sizzle for a day or so, then had the 3½ million dollar item reinstated in his budget.

The governor had made his point.

Party-line votes have marked progress of Brown's program through legislative committees and the Assembly. This has been true in the case of the cross-filing repealer, creation of an Office of Consumer Counsel, FEPC, minimum wage law and tax measures.

But there has been party division on some non-administration bills, including repeal of the loyalty oath on all tax exemptions.

Capital punishment got into the act when the Republican caucus voted to oppose abolition of the death penalty. The Democrats, so far, have avoided a stand on this issue at their weekly luncheon.

Non-Drinkers Get Cheaper Insurance

Cheaper fire insurance is now being offered non-drinkers.

H. W. Killian of San Rafael, Marin representative for Preferred Risk Mutual Insurance Co., today reported the firm is now offering 25 per cent off the standard stock company rates to persons who do not use alcoholic beverages.

Preferred Risk Mutual pioneered reduced rates for car insurance for non-drinkers several years ago.

Librarian Luring Airmen With Coffee

By BETSY M. WOODMAN

It may be unheard-of in library circles, but Harriet Cook is out to give the Hamilton Air Force Base Library the "hard sell."

During National Library Week, (that's this week), Miss Cook is using special funds for a coffee and doughnut period from 9 to 10 o'clock each morning, when the library is not ordinarily open.

To Miss Cook, some of the saddest words she hears are from service personnel who are transferring from the base. As they stop by the library to clear their accounts, too many of them say, "You know, this is the first time I've been in here."

IT'S A COME-ON

The coffee hour is shamelessly designed to lure those who have never been inside.

It's not that the base is populated by strictly non-readers. The semi-annual statistics of those who do use the library give a heartening report. Open only 48 hours a week, the library has an average daily attendance of about 130, and in the second half of last year circulated more than 20,000 books. Of these about 60 percent were fiction. With a total stock of about 17,775 books, it's a satisfactory circulation figure.

During the same period 21,000 paper bound books, considered expendable reading material, were circulated. These went principally to the alert hangers, hospital and day rooms.

CHOSEN BY AF

These paperbacks are selected by the chief librarian of the U.S. Air Force. They are mostly fiction, with westerns, mysteries, science fiction and other "quick reading" in the majority. They arrive at Hamilton periodically in boxes of 50 titles. Backlogs of such reading are built up for groups which make sudden moves, such as the 83rd Fighter Interceptor Squadron which went to Formosa last year.

The Air Force library has the dual mission to provide material for both education and recreational purposes. The service given by the Base library is comparable to one in a community with a population of 17,000. Miss Cook, a federal civil service employee and professional librarian, tries to get a cross-section of books to meet the needs and interests of a military installation.

SOURCE OF FUNDS

Funds for the base library needs comes from two sources. Congress appropriates money for the overall Air Force library program. Through it, Hamilton gets a monthly kit of 30 titles of current interest. A special technical book and magazine fund is also from federal appropriations.

The second source of money is from the profits of base exchange facilities and base theaters. A council allocates this money each month for recreational and educational purposes.

Besides a large stock of scientific books for high school level reading, the library has special books of interest to women readers, for children, and subscribes to 210 periodicals, both technical and recreational in nature. The library is also the agency through which any office on base procures a needed technical book which goes to that office on extended loan.

PLACE TO STUDY

With the building open during base meal hours, many military personnel who are taking off-duty education courses find the library a handy place to study. The atlases got heavy duty during last term's big geography classes. An automatic book charging machine speeds lending of books as it eliminates signing for each volume separately.

Overdues are common to any library, but Miss Cook says the no-fine system at Hamilton makes no difference in returns. One card number is issued to each military person, and his family charges books to it. Thus at base clearance it is easy to account for books not returned.

Providing up-to-date books on aeronautics is a particular headache for an Air Force librarian today. Because of the rapid advances in this field, Miss Cook says that sometimes by the time such a book arrives, it is obsolete.

KIDS CAN BE NUTTY, TOO

Let the college boys and girls who've been cramming themselves into phone booths and small cars try and beat this stunt. It was performed by six children at Alhambra Day Nursery to show how silly things are getting at the other end of the educational ladder. IF YOU HAVEN'T DONE IT YET, BETTER DO IT

Been putting it off?

What?

Filing your state and federal income tax returns.

The early birds who have already filed have nothing to worry about, but taxpayers who have been putting it off may be in for a headache.

There's just tonight to burn the midnight oil, because tomorrow is the last day to file your state and federal returns. After that there will be a penalty.

Hub City Girl In Finals Of Talk Contest

Sixteen-year-old Marilyn Nault, of 6 Willow way, San Anselmo, will represent Marin and Sonoma Counties in the Coast Counties finals of the Native Sons of the Golden West public speaking contest in Oakland Friday.

The contest will be held at 8 p.m. at Oakland High School. Miss Nault won in the regional finals in San Rafael April 7. She is sponsored by Fairfax Parlor 307.

Miss Nault is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald H. Nault.

Teen Driver Knocks Down Fire Hydrant

Three teen-agers whose 1959 white and green Ford station wagon knocked over a fire hydrant in front of 143 Blackstone drive, Marinwood, are being sought by the California Highway Patrol.

The accident happened at 1:40 p.m. Saturday, J. R. Jones, who lives at 143 Blackstone drive, said he heard the crash, stepped out of his house and saw three teen-agers in the station wagon. The driver told him he was lighting a cigarette and lost control of the vehicle, Jones related to Highway Patrolman Frank Hulley.

Larry Negrate, Marinwood Hills sales manager, told Officer Hulley that he saw the station wagon spinning circles in a lot across the street 15 minutes before the accident.

Fairfax Approves Four-Way Stop At Busy Intersection

A four-way stop intersection at Center boulevard and Pastori avenue was approved last night by the Fairfax City Council at the insistance of 40 petition signers in the neighborhood.

The council directed City Atty. Wallace S. Myers to prepare a resolution authorizing two additional stop signs at the intersection. Center boulevard is now a through street.

Jack Garcia of 165 Lansdale avenue pointed out to the councilmen the hazards connected with shoppers going in and out of the new Lucky Store parking lot, opening of the Fairfax Town and Country Club's season, and a school bus stop on Center boulevard opposite the supermarket.

School children in another section of Fairfax were the concern of Jerry Schuman of 46 Westbrae drive at another point in last night's council meeting.

Schuman asked the council if a school crossing sign could be placed on Sir Francis Drake boulevard for some 20 children who must cross the highway to get to Manor School.

Planning Commission Chairman Waldemar E. Radtke, in a facetious vein, suggested from the audience that "a policeman sit there and read the morning paper instead of some other place."

Dogtown Went Gold-Crazy Century Ago

PARADISE (AP)—The biggest chunk of gold ever found in California was discovered near this old mining town 100 years ago this month.

The nugget weighed 54 pounds when it was taken from the ground—one of the largest single hunks of gold ever found. It sold for $10,690.

Seven men were present when the grapefruit-sized bonanza was unearthed April 12, 1859, from a claim on the slope of Sawmill Peak, along the west branch of the Feather River between Paradise and a tiny town then known as Dogtown. The area is about 100 miles north of Sacramento.

The discovery led to a celebration that has seldom been matched, even in these haunts of the lusty '49ers.

As word of the find spread, miners came in from miles around to marvel at the sight of the giant nugget. The whiskey flowed for two days.

The miners who hauled the nugget into Dogtown searched out Ira Weatherbee, one of the developers of the old Willard claim on which the treasure was found.

They wouldn't tell him what they had in their bulging sack until he set up a round of drinks.

After one peek at the hunk of ore, he ordered drinks for everyone in town.

Dogtown, by the way, got its name because of a widow whose only possessions were three dogs. Noticing the miners were lonely men, she began selling puppies to them for a pinch of gold dust each.

Soon some of the miners had as many as 10 dogs each. As the town went to the dogs, the widow became wealthy.

After discovery of the Dogtown nugget, however, the residents grew a bit more dignified and looked for a more elite name. They finally settled on Magalia.

The new name didn't bring much luck, though. Magalia dwindled to a town of just a few hundred residents while Paradise grew to a community of 11,000.

Hamilton Airman Pleads Innocent To Hit-Run Charge

A 22-year-old Hamilton airman pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to charges of felony hit-run driving and reckless driving on April 4 when he was involved in a three-car accident which injured a San Francisco woman.

A/1c Emmett Thomas Lowery of the 78th Transportation Squadron was charged with failure to stop at the accident scene south of San Rafael in Highway 101.

Yesterday Lowery waived jury trial and Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. continued his case to next Monday at 1:30 p.m. to set trial.

2 Marinites Enter Custom Car Show

Two Marin County custom car builders have entered their cars in the Custom, Rod, and Antique Auto Show to be held in Brooks Hall, next to San Francisco's Civic Auditorium, Thursday through Sunday, announced Bob Barkhimer, managing director of the show.

The two are: Ed Clahan, 301 Hidden Valley lane, Sleepy Hollow, who has entered his 1940 Ford street coupe, and H. R. Soderstrom, 17 Manor drive, San Rafael, with a 1932 Ford three window coupe.

SO NOW IT'S A COLLECTOR'S ITEM

When Congress voted statehood for Hawaii, George T. Woodring, who buys flags for the 1,700-plus stores of the J. C. Penney Co. chain, got "pineapple indigestion." He saw himself "stuck" with more than a million 49-star flags in a soon-to-be-50-state nation. But the short duration of the 49-state union has proved a boon to flag sellers as well as flag makers, Woodring reports: "The 49-star flag, thank heaven, is becoming a collector's item."

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Strikes Spread

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Bank clerks today joined the growing ranks of Argentine workers out on strike for higher pay. The government declared the bank strike illegal and threatened the clerks with loss of their jobs.

The bank clerks demand a monthly wage boost of 1,500 pesos—$11.

President Arturo Frondizi's government, which is pushing an austerity program to keep down the cost of living, took over the bank clerks union and the insurance clerks union. The insurance workers also had called a strike for today.

Summit Talks Rapped

DURHAM, N.C. (UPI)—The director of the United States Information Agency says the idea of summit conferences settling international disputes "smacks too much of the old idea of one or two big shots getting together and deciding the fate of humanity."

George V. Allen told a Duke University audience yesterday that "the United Nations is perfectly adequate to settle such matters as would be taken up at a summit meeting."

Tallulah Asks Help

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tallulah Bankhead returned to Congress and asked the precious dahlings there to help her fellow actors.

"I don't know why y'all make me so nervous," she told the House Ways and Means Committee Monday. "I've been sitting on everybody's knee up here since I was two."

Tallulah, wearing her mink just off her shoulder and not appearing a bit nervous, reminded the congressmen her uncle, granddaddy and daddy all had served in Congress. Her daddy, the late William B. Bankhead, had been speaker of the House.

Testifying for Actors Equity Assn., she asked that unemployment compensation be given to actors out of work, as so many of them often are.

10 Dead On Plane

TOKYO (AP)—A ground party today reached the wreckage of a U.S. Navy seaplane that disappeared April 9 and reported all 10 men aboard apparently were killed.

The wreckage was sighted Saturday on a mountain on Cheju Island, off the southern tip of South Korea. The plane had disappeared on a training flight from Japan to South Korea.

Brigitte Wears Wig

PARIS (AP) — Brigitte Bardot sported brown hair at London Airport last night, but her press agent said it was a wig, not a dye job.

The agent also claimed that a 35-minute smooching session the French film star staged in the airport lounge with Jacques Charrier, costar of her new film, was only a publicity stunt.

The actress, who arrived in the British capital four days ago her usual blonde self, caught the attention of newsmen last night when she showed up at the airport with dark hair.

While waiting for the plane, Brigitte and Charrier cuddled, kissed and drank in the airport lounge well away from the other passengers — but within convenient reach of the press.

Snow In Virginias

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

A blanket of cold air pulled freezing temperatures deep into Dixie early today and sprinkled light snow in parts of the Virginias.

Overnight readings tumbled into the 30s across northern Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia. Rome, Ga., recorded a subfreezing 31 early yesterday. Readings in the 40s extended into northern Florida, as compared with temperatures near 70 in the extreme south of the state.

Airman Lost In Snow

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—A U.S. airman assigned to a remote radar station near the Arctic Circle, 200 miles northwest of here, disappeared Saturday.

A1/c Frank Luther Smith, of Winder, Ga., vanished while on a hike from lower Toupper Camp at Indian Mountain, near Hughes, with two companions. He became tired and told his fellow airmen to continue on to camp while he rested.

A search was launched when Smith failed to show up. Searchers couldn't pick up his tracks because of the drifting snow.

Put A 'No Women Allowed' Sign In Front Of All Our Universities?

"We should put a NO WOMEN ALLOWED sign in front of every university in the USA," I heard a professor say. "We should admit only our most capable boys. Then universities wouldn't be crowded. Males could work without female distraction. Women don't use their college training anyway. They just marry and have babies . . . I hope you'll endorse my proposal." Then the professor sat down. The audience was silent, stunned by his idea.

I heard this at a convention recently. Do you like the idea? I don't. Women have at least half of the intelligence of mankind. Half of the talent, wit, creative ability, research insight, reasoning capacity.

Our country is in a desperate race with Rus[illegible]e can't waste half of [illegible]ility. We must find our br[illegible] girls and educate them. Some of the most capable scientists are women. Remember Madame Curie? We could use some Madame Curies right now.

Girls marry, of course. They have babies. They should put their children's welfare first. While they are busy with motherhood they can't be productive in other areas. But children grow up. Women live longer than men. They are healthier. They retain their faculties well. Women could do important work for 20 years or more after their children are adults.

We need more universities—better universities. We need to cultivate the intellectual power of both men and women. This professor's proposal isn't good. I hope we'll be wise enough to ignore it.

Thieves broke into the Christensen Manufacturing Co., boat builders in Sausalito's Marinship section, sometime Saturday night and made off with about $45 in cash and an expensive camera, according to Sausalito police.

The intruders may have attempted to burn the building, police said, as ashes were found in two places.

Novato Youth Fined For Drunkenness

Sheriff's deputies heard a crash on Mirabella avenue and found a swarm of youths milling about. Cotallo, who was intoxicated, battled the officers and had to be jailed by force.

Anti-Mosquito Work Set In Tiburon Area

Marin Mosquito Abatement District will help to eliminate mosquito-breeding swampland along the railroad track in Tiburon by ditching water runoff from the hills into Belvedere Lagoon.

The district directors Thursday night agreed to work with landowners, Northwestern Pacific Railroad and state Division of Highways on the ditching program.

The district directors also:

1. Approved a salary committee recommendation to give step increases to seven employees, ranging from $19 to $30 per month increase. The approval is only tentative and subject to change during budget discussion.
2. Asked manager G. Paul Jones to report on cost of fencing and landscaping the area around the new district office building on Third street.
3. Decided to write letters to state Sen. John F. McCarthy, Assemblyman Richard H. McCollister and Gov. Edmund G. Brown, opposing an action of the subcommittee of the state Finance Committee. The committee restored $386,630 to the mosquito subvention fund. The Marin board said it believes local people should be willing to tax themselves to the limit of 40 cents before getting state aid. In the past, subventions have gone to areas that operate with a tax rate of as low as four or five cents.
4. Happily accepted a $259.54 refund check from state compensation insurance, accompanied by a letter which praised the safety record of employees of the district.

Six Actors Top Hopefuls For Emmies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A shoot-out with three gunslingers and three private eyes — that shaped up as the most intriguing contest today in the nominations of the Television Academy.

A mass of nominees in 42 categories was released by the amadeny for its 11th annual Emmies. The race that caught the eye was for best actor in a leading role of a dramatic series. The hopefuls exemplified the current taste for westerners and detectives.

The sleuths were represented by Raymond Burr (Perry Mason), Graig Stevens (Peter Gunn) and Efrem Zimbalist Jr. of "77 Sunset Strip." Aiming to shoot them down were James Arness, "Gunsmoke," Richard Boone of "Have Gun, Will Travel" and one of the Maverick boys, James Garner.

A battle of the veterans appeared in the race for best leading actor in a comedy series. The contenders: Jack Benny, Walter Brennan, Robert Cummings, Phil Silvers, Danny Thomas and Robert Young.

Insiders rated movie veteran Fred Astaire to take honors in the new medium for his spectacular. It was nominated as most outstanding single program of 1958, best single performance by an actor and four other awards.

The Emmies will be handed out in a nationwide telecast May 6.

RUSSIAN BALLERINA IN U.S. FOR TOUR—Galina Ulanova, famed Russian ballerina, talks with newsmen upon her arrival in New York by plane from Moscow. She will appear with the Bolshoi ballet which opens a 10-week tour of American and Canadian cities Thursday in the Metropolitan Opera House in New York. Other appearances will be in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Toronto and Montreal. (AP Wirephoto)

Bolshoi Ballet Makes U. S. Debut Thursday At The Met

NEW YORK (AP)—The famed Bolshoi Ballet makes its long awaited American debut Thursday night in the Metropolitan Opera House.

The Soviet company will open a 10-week stay in America with "Romeo and Juliet," starring its prima ballerina, the legendary Galina Ulanova.

Brought here by impresario Sol Hurek, the troupe will include a second ballerina of first rank, Maya Plisetskaya, creator of the company's "Stone Flower." She has not danced outside the Soviet Union before.

Tickets for opening night have a $50 top, for other nights, $15. Advance sales were phenomenally high. When the box office opened, after mail applications had been handled, there were 1,000 potential patrons in line with hardly enough seats left to take care even of them.

The company will play in Toronto and Montreal, and Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Besides "Romeo and Juliet" and "Stone Flower," the repertory includes "Giselle" and "Swan Lake" and two highlights programs, one of them featuring a section from "Spartacus." The second of these special programs is for newly scheduled Madison Square Garden appearances in May for the benefit of ballet lovers who couldn't get into the Met.

Sausalito Theater Opens 'Waltz Of Toreadors' Friday

All is in readiness for the Friday night opening of "The Waltz of the Toreadors" at the Sausalito Little Theater.

Directed by veteran John King, the Jean Anouihl play will be presented as a tragicomic satire, although it has been played as a broad farce.

"The Waltz of the Toreadors" is the story of an aging French general's fading amours and jealous hypochondriac wife.

Heading the production crew will be Vincent Porcaro, set designer, whose most recent work was "Garden District" for the San Francisco Actor's Workshop. Porcaro is well known as a director and set designer at Mills College.

Costume designer is Jose Gomez, whose background includes New York dress designing and work in many advertising campaigns. Lighting effects will be by Dr. Earle Marsh of Mill Valley, with Dr. John Wellington of Sausalito as production manager.

"The Waltz of the Toreadors" will be presented for five consecutive weekends, with the Friday and Saturday performances starting at 8:30 p.m.

The two senior Civil Air Patrol squadrons of Marin County are being combined.

The former Amphibious Squadron 2 will give up its name and the whole will be known as Marin CAP Squadron 4. Meetings will continue to be on Thursday evening at the Commodore Aviation building in Sausalito.

Look Alikes

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — Claude T. Smallwood, a routeman for the Northern Virginia Sun, was eating breakfast in a restaurant when he saw his car being driven away by a stranger. He ran out and stopped it, but the stranger insisted it was his own. Smallwood called attention to his newspapers in the back seat. Then they laughed—the cars were exact duplicates except for the license plates.

How telephone jobs help build a more prosperous California

Telephone jobs provide work for 68,000 Californians

One out of every 85 workers in California — some 68,000 people all told—get paychecks from Pacific Telephone. These paychecks, totaling 360 million dollars this year, go for everything from hats to houses.

This money, in turn, helps create a host of jobs outside the telephone business. Spent in hundreds of California communities, these dollars help pay the wages of many other Californians—people who produce goods and services, people who sell them.

In this way, telephone jobs do more than provide you with good phone service. They also help build a more prosperous California which means a better future for you.

Working together to serve you better . . .
